GOLD AND SILVER RATIO

LATEST CONGRESS RESOLUTION

Washington, May 30.
The House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee to-day voted to instruct the United States delegates to the World Economic Conference to support bimetalism at a fixed ratio between gold and silver.

It will be recalled that they recently withdrew a resolution stipulating what the ratio should be.—Reuter.

ETZDORF CRASH SENSATION

MEDICAL REPORT REVELATION

DEATH DUE TO SUICIDE

London, May 31.

The somewhat mysterious circumstances surrounding the death of Fraulein von Etzdorf, the noted German airwoman, have now been cleared up, according to a report from Aleppo.

It stated that the circumstances point to suicide, the official medical report leaving little doubt about it.

The original report stated that after her crash landing, Miss von Etzdorf was extricated safely, but died later. A further report, stating that to all appearances she suffered no injury in the crash, led to some mystification.

It is now revealed that the authorities were keeping something back.

TWO SHOTS THROUGH HEAD.

Apparently, Miss von Etzdorf was able to climb out of the machine with little assistance, though she may have been suffering from shock. She was taken to the aviators' room, where every attention was given her.

Later, she retired to the room, alone, at her own request. Suddenly shots rang out and she was found dead on the bed with the gun which she carried during the journey beside her and two bullets through the head.

No statement was left by the airwoman and no motive for the suicide is known.—Reuter.

MANAGER SUED BY LEADER

ALLEGED CRITICISM OF TRUMPET-PLAYING

PASSAGE OF LETTERS

A slander action for $1,000 and costs which has created much interest in musical circles opened at the Supreme Court this morning before the Puisne Judge, Mr. R. E. Lindsell, the parties being Frank Lewiston Adamson, better known as Dick Adamson, leader of the Gloucester Building dance orchestra, and Percy Ingham Newman, manager.

Mr. M. A. da Silva, of Messrs. D'Almada, Remedios, and Silva, appeared for plaintiff, and the defendant was represented by Mr. W. A. Mackinlay, of Messrs. Deacons.

The statement of claim sets out that plaintiff is a musical director and a player of the saxophone, clarinet and trumpet carrying on business in Hongkong; and that defendant is the manager of the Gloucester Building (Residential).

On the 31st January, 1933, defendant falsely and maliciously wrote to the plaintiff and published to a Mrs. M. M. Drake of the plaintiff and of him in the way of his business the following words:

"NUMEROUS COMPLAINTS.

With reference to your orchestra, you surely must have realised that their performance has been anything but satisfactory to-date either to the management or to the guests. Numerous complaints have been received from time to time both from European and Chinese patrons to the effect that they find it impossible to dance to the time and tunes being rendered at present. In many instances these complaints have been mentioned to you but to all appearances no effort has been made on your part to rectify these very obvious faults and it is impossible to continue along these lines. Instead of the orchestra being an added attraction to the Gloucester it is driving customers away, at the same time being a very heavy expense. Had you held daily practices and had an up-to-date repertoire some degree of efficiency might have been attained but the same old tunes being played repeatedly simply drive all music lovers away. We exceedingly regret having to take this step which we feel might easily have been avoided had we had your entire co-operation with a view to making the venture a complete success."

"BAND NO GOOD."

On February 23, defendant falsely and maliciously, the statement alleged, spoke and published of the plaintiff the following words:

"The band is no good and I am fed up to the teeth with them and am getting rid of them. There is Adamson—you know him—that trumpet he is playing is the cause of the whole thing. It kills the band and the orchestra is driving my crowd away in lieu of attracting them. I have received more complaints about that trumpet than anything in the whole building."

$1,000 CLAIMED.

The statement also alleges that the words were published in the Gloucester Building and spoken in the hearing of a person named William Lawson Butts, and that defendant meant by the above words that plaintiff was an incompetent musician and not fit to be employed as a musical director or as a trumpet player and that by reason of such incompetence the Gloucester Building was losing custom. In consequence of the alleged words plaintiff had been greatly injured in his credit and reputation and in his business, and claimed $1,000 damages and costs.

WITHDRAWAL SOUGHT.

Mr. Silva, opening the case, said that reputation of the plaintiff in his chosen profession of music was no less precious to him than his limbs, health, and liberty, for the reason that he started his musical studies at the age of six. From an early age he established a reputation as a musician from San Francisco to Sacramento and across the Pacific from Shanghai to Singapore. When that reputation was defamed he sought reparation: he did not want damages in the pecuniary sense but a complete withdrawal of the allegations.

LETTER SENT

His client instructed his solicitors, continued Mr. da Silva, and the following letter was sent to defendant: "I have been consulted by Mr. Dick Adamson with reference to your letter of January 31st, and to a conversation which you had with Mr. Butts. Your said letter contains certain allegations derogatory to my client and to his orchestra, which allegations, my client informs me, are totally false. Further, in spite of such allegations, you have since re-engaged my client's orchestra, and have not included my client in such re-engagement. A verbal allegation in the same strain as contained in your said letter, was made by you to Mr. Butts on Thursday last, 23rd instant. Under the circumstances I am instructed to apply to you for a full and unconditional written withdrawal of the said allegations, and an apology thereto, and to inform you that unless such withdrawal and apology is given to my client by noon on Wednesday next, my client will take such steps in the matter as he may be advised without further notice."

REQUEST REFUSED.

No reply was obtained to this letter by March 3 and another letter was sent asking for an apology and withdrawal. The following day, a letter refusing the request was received from defendant's solicitors.

The case is proceeding.

GRAND PRIX SMASHES

DRIVERS KILLED IN AMERICA

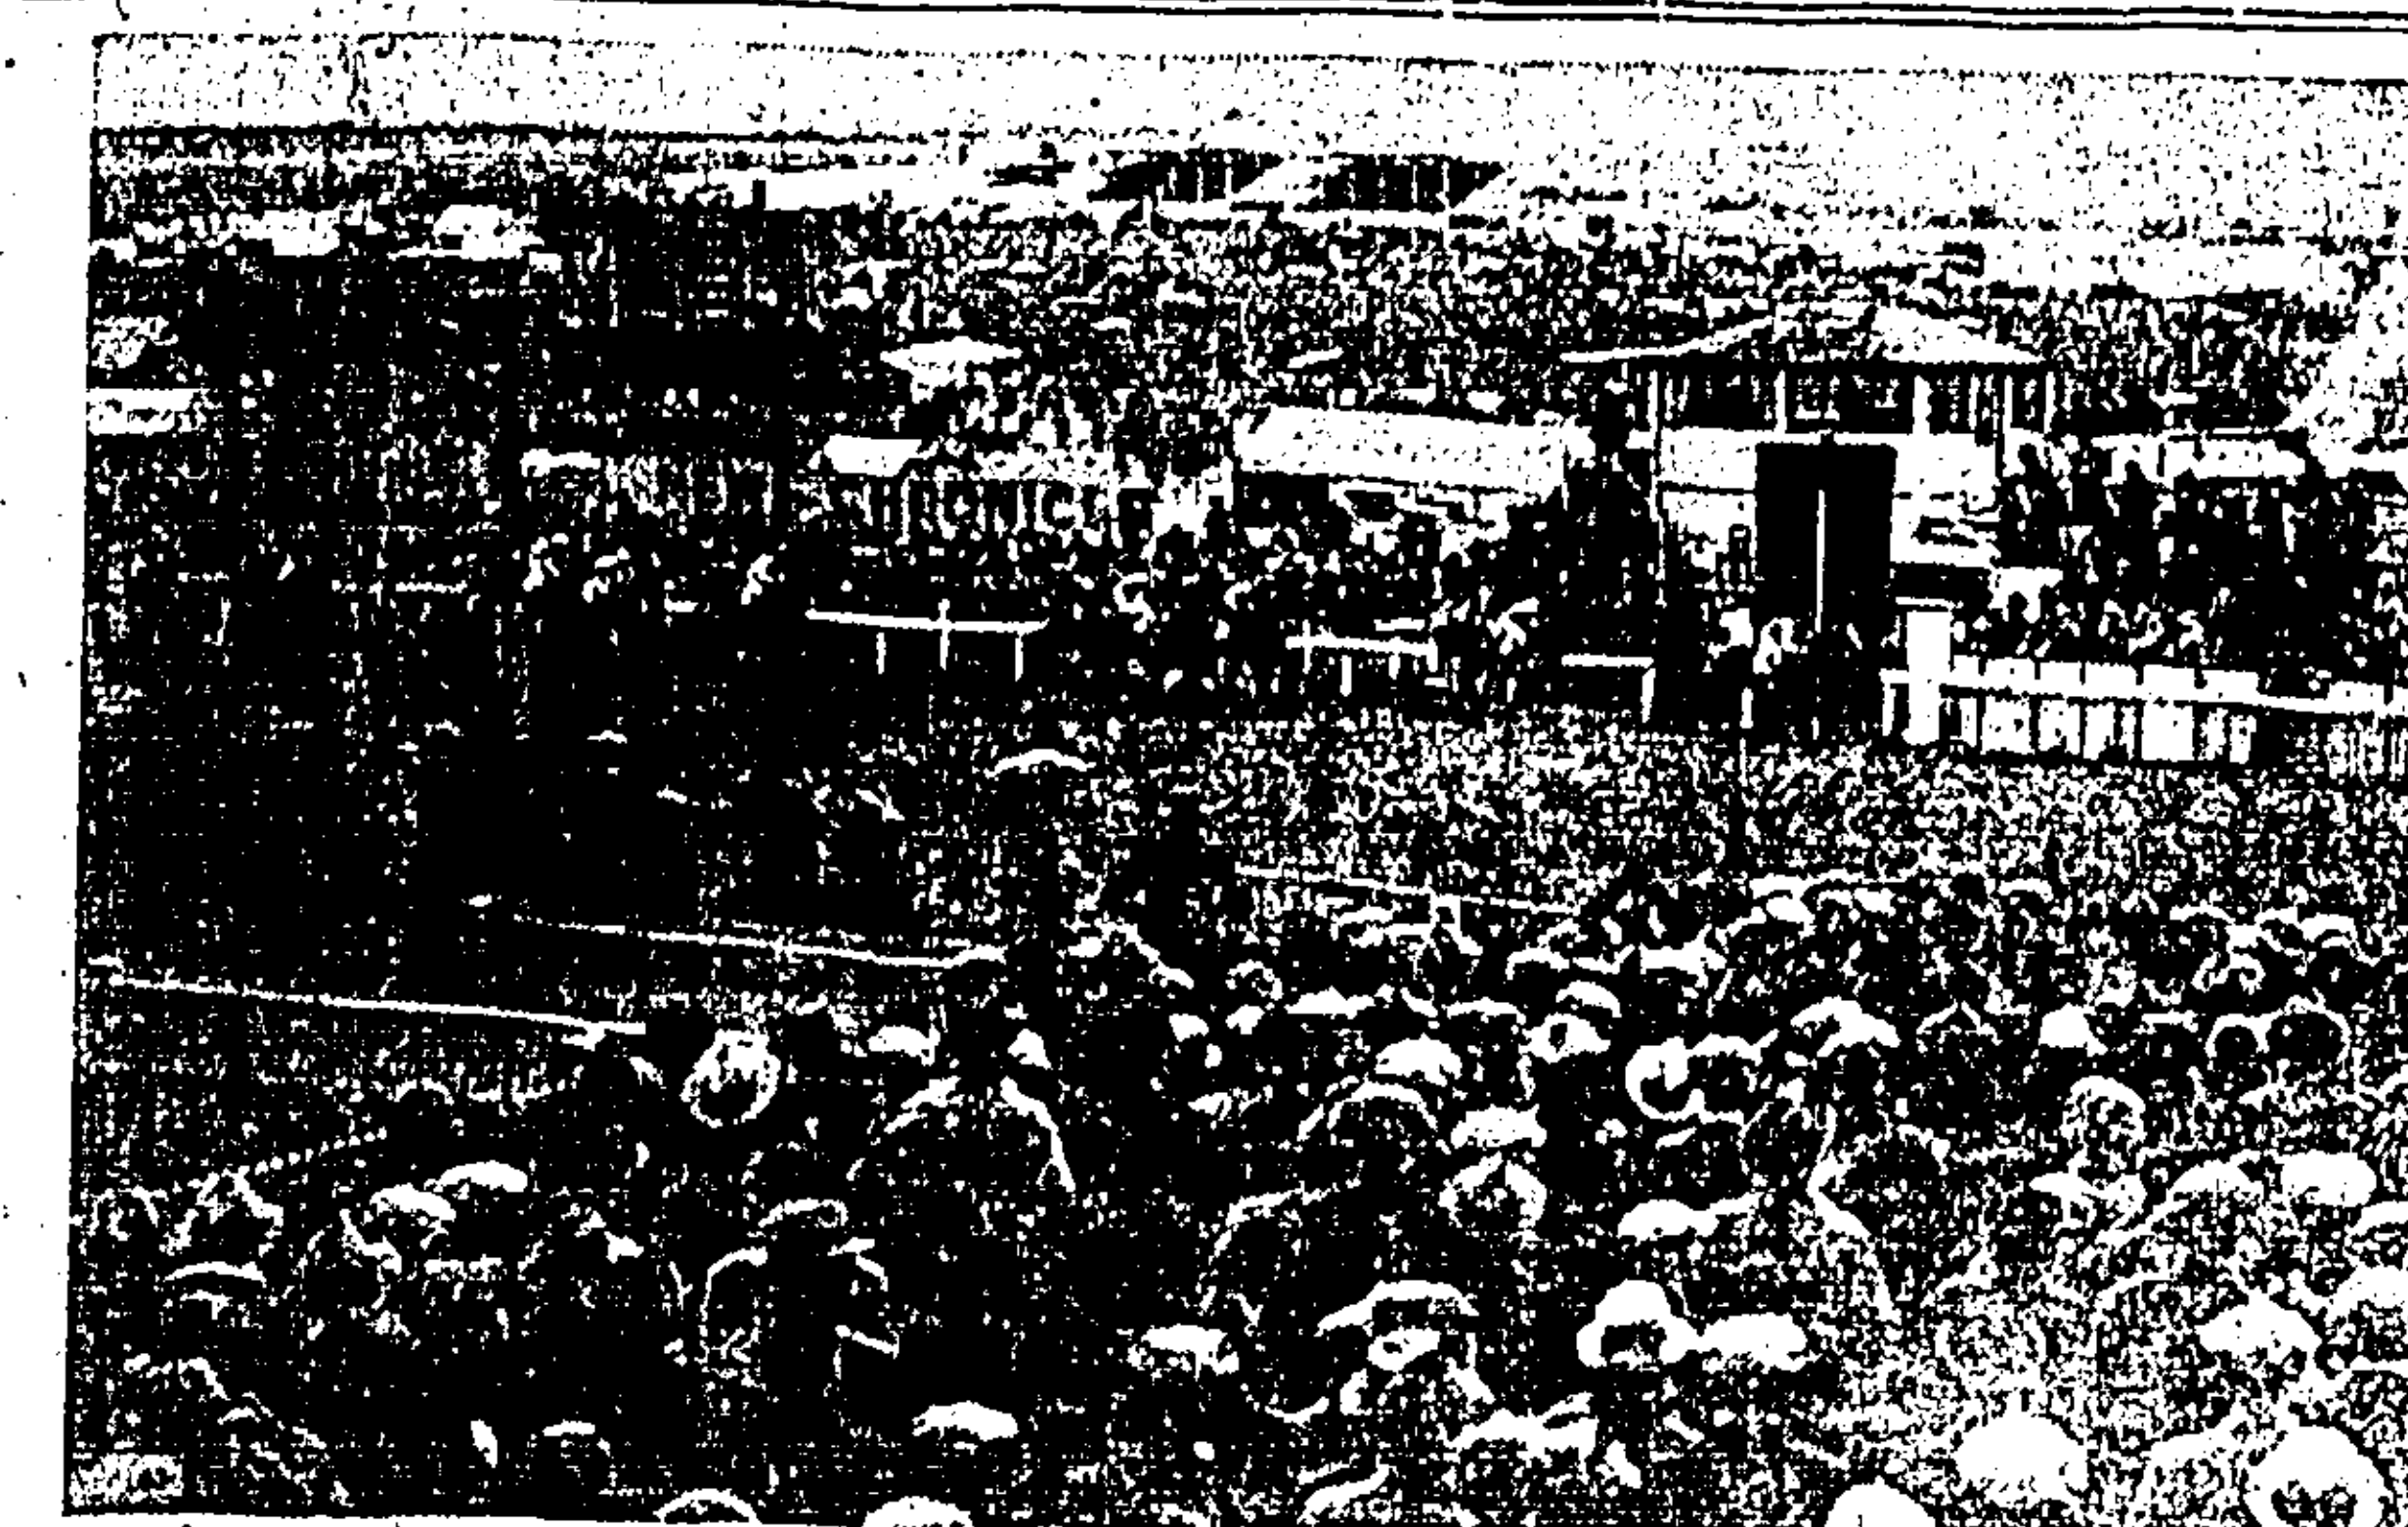

WINNER AVERAGES 104 M.P.H.

Indianapolis, May 30.

The great Five Hundred Mile Indianapolis Grand Prix Race was marred by two fatal accidents.

Louis Meyer, the famous American driver, won the event driving an eight-cylinder Tydol. He completed the course in the record time of 4 hours, 48 minutes, 0.75 seconds.

There were forty-two starters. The brilliance of Meyer's feat is indicated by the fact that he averaged well over a hundred miles an hour.—Reuter.

RUTTLEDGE CLIMB

EVEREST ASSAULT THREATENED

BREAKING OF THE MONSOON

London, May 30.

The prospects of the Rutledge Everest Expedition, now established on the approaches to the summit, may experience a real setback.

According to reports from Darjeeling, the monsoon is breaking. The monsoon has already reached Calcutta and is expected in the Everest district this week.

It is believed, therefore, that the climbers, who have already made several fruitless attempts to gain the summit, will do their utmost to carry out a further assault before the end of the week.

If this proves impossible, the Rutledge Party will probably be compelled to postpone the attempt until October, after the monsoon season is over.—Reuter.

BRITISH DEBT TO AMERICA

London, May 30.

Answering a further question, he said the amounts due in sterling to America in the present financial year, at the present rate of 3.98½ dollars to the pound, were £19,050,000 on 15th June and £29,523,000 on December 15th or approximately £48,573,000.—British Wireless.

MANITOBA FOR THE DERBY

FIRM FAVOURITE ALTHOUGH RACE IS VERY OPEN

TOM WALLS'S TIP

(SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH").

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, May 31, 8.25 a.m.)

LONDON, MAY 31.

KEENER INTEREST IS BEING TAKEN IN THIS YEAR'S DERBY CLASSIC, TO BE RUN AT EPSOM TO-DAY, THAN FOR SOME TIME PAST.

Seldom has the race been regarded as more open than it is this year, although Manitoba has become a firm favourite and is likely to retain the position until the end of the market.

Manitoba's position is, however, very likely due to the fact that Gordon Richards will be up on him. Even so, sound backers are not so sure. The feeling among punters is illustrated by the course of betting which has provided five different favourites in the last few weeks.

Tom Walls, the film star, who freely predicted the success of his horse April Fifth last year, says: "My bet will be Manitoba to win, Hyperion and Scarlet Tiger each way."

Manitoba is certainly in grand shape. She ran very attractively during a six furlongs exercise on the Downs yesterday morning.

Unless the weather turns out to be unfavourable which is not anticipated, Their Majesties the King and Queen, the Prince of Wales, and other members of the Royal Family will travel to Epsom to witness the race.

The absence of any heavy rainfall recently has increased Manitoba's chances in the estimation of many. The going is expected to be hard, which, it is thought in well-informed circles, will injure the prospects of Manitoba's opponents rather than that of the favourite.—Reuter Special. Copyright.

BLUE GRASS DOUBTFUL STARTER.

Two last minute alterations have been made in mounts for the probable starters. Steve Donoghue will not ride Thrapsion and Smith will mount Interlace.

Blue Grass, which has Childs as its jockey, is a doubtful runner owing to the hard going. His trainer will not decide whether to start him nor not until after exercise this morning.

The complete list of probable starters and riders is: Harinoro (Ray), Light Sussex (Pat Donoghue), King Salmon (Harry Wagg), Hyperion (Weston), Scarlet Tiger (A. W. Ragg).

Solar Boy (Collins), Interlace (Smith), Felicitation (Elliot), Gino (Bony), Franzahle (T. Burns), Happy Call (Gethin), Raymond (Nicol), Myosotis (Jones), Statesman (Carlslake), Caymanas (Lane), Manitoba (Gordon Richards), Madagascar (Bartlam), Blue Grass (Fox), Lover's Walk (Childs), Thrapsion (Steve Donoghue), Melfort (Johnstone), Colorado (McGuigan), Tuppence (Harry Beasley).

PEACE FOR TEN YEARS

THE FOUR-POWER PACT STIPULATIONS

ARMS EQUALITY AGREEMENT

Rome, May 30.

It is reliably learned that the Four-Power Pact will shortly be submitted for signature.

It is likely to stipulate a formal agreement between the signatories to maintain peace for a period of ten years and to settle economic questions.

The Pact refers to Articles Ten, Sixteen and Nineteen of the League Covenant, and recognises parity rights in disarmament, but, it is understood, the application of parity is suspended for an agreed period.—Reuter.

AMERICA'S OFFER.

London, May 30.

During the discussion of the question of the Pact of Non-Aggression which occupied most of to-day in the General Commission of the Disarmament Conference, the American delegate, Mr. Norman Davis, speaking in accordance with President Roosevelt's message, declared that if the Conference wished to see a substantial measure of disarmament, the United States would be adverse to the conclusion of a universal pact forbidding resort to force.

The British delegate Captain Anthony Eden, emphasised the importance of this declaration, and added that the question could be further discussed on the second reading.

AIR PROBLEM.

The Minister for Air, Lord Londonderry, left London for Geneva by air this afternoon.

He will take part in the resumed discussion of the air disarmament proposals in the General Commission of the Disarmament Conference. The Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, is, for the present, remaining in London to attend to-morrow's meeting of the Cabinet.—British Wireless.

Headed by a naval guard of 200 sailors from H.M.S. Pembroke marching with arms reversed, the body of Admiral of the Fleet Lord Wester Wemyss was taken in procession from the Admiralty to Westminster Abbey for the funeral service to-day.

The coffin was covered with a white ensign and borne on a gun carriage drawn by sixteen sailors. The pall bearers were high officers, representing all branches of the fighting services.

Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt was present on behalf of the King and the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught were also represented.—British Wireless.

STOP PRESS

Peking, May 31.

According to Chinese reports both Mr. Okamura and Mr. Kato are now in Tangku, but the latter is not expected to stay in Tangku as Mr. Okamura is chief Japanese delegate to the Peace Conference.

The Chinese Press states that the special train bearing the Chinese delegates arrived at Tangku yesterday afternoon, and soon afterwards the delegates of both sides met informally and will continue discussion to-day.

The formal conference is opening on June 1.—Reuter.

THE WORLD OF WOMEN

FASHION NOTES

Importance of the New Wide Belt

Belts are becoming very important, and are getting far away from the strip of fabric or leather that they used to be. Sometimes they are very wide in the back and run to practically nothing in the front; sometimes they are wide in front and narrow in the back. Belts are shown studded with three rows of shiny nailheads, and sometimes they are made, wide in front, of ridged patent leather.

Then there are belts consisting of braided strands of beads in turquoise or coral. Gold belts of mesh or military braid, from one to two inches wide, are a smart set-off to a black dress or any other dark dress. Gold belts are seen on evening dresses, particularly pastel coloured ones, but with a dead white evening dress a bright red belt is preferred.

Belts in braided multi-coloured varnished cords look smart, and so do those of military gold galloon. Sash belts are found in many houses, and coloured sashes—important ones with enormous bows and ends—hang to the hems of both afternoon and evening dresses.

The new printed silks simply dazzle the spectators with a fresh, new charm, gay, giddy little prints that will not spread on all over the fashion horizon—just the right kind of prints for a fastidious woman in search of something very different and distinctive. And they have arrived in generous profusion, prints for colourful daytime dresses, and dashing prints for summer dancing parties, and, of course, all the new prints for smart contrasting blouses, so necessary for slim, fashionable suits. Flashy, flamboyant, flowered designs have disappeared, we hope, for ever.

LINEN FOR COMFORT

Linen Suits Will Be Co-educational This Summer

Linen suits are co-educational this year—both the boys and the girls about town will be wearing them.

For the man, there's a big double-breasted model in white linen that takes and holds its press perfectly. It has the notched lapels men like and is both cool and handsome. The girl's suit is the new tweed linen, in natural colour, made with box-pleating in the skirt and a short, swagger jacket. With it a blue linen blouse is hand-made and has some hand-some novelty stitching in natural-coloured thread.

BEAUTIFUL LACE

Featured in Diagonal Lines and Squares

(From A Paris Correspondent)

The influence of modern fashion has made itself felt among the lace manufacturers more than any other trade. The new lace materials are being used by all leading dressmakers for jumpers, bodices to cloth dresses, and for sports ensembles, while woollen lace is one of the most popular materials for evening gowns.

These new lace materials feature straight and diagonal lines, or squares, and lines giving the impression of length to dresses, which is the aim of all designers at the present moment.

Silk lace is eminently a luxury article, I was told by the head of a well known dressmaking establishment in Paris. In order to help the dressmakers reduce their prices, cotton and woollen laces are being carried out in the same lovely designs as those used for the silks. Shiny materials are out of favour at the moment, and dull surfaces are being sought by the lace firms, just as much as by the textile manufacturers.

A lace peau d'ange is a novelty, and is especially interesting on account of its being double-faced. A certain amount of popularity is also given to an imitation of Irish lace, which is very effective as a blouse, or as sleeves. Finer examples of imitations of Valenciennes or other laces are used as trimmings on dark dresses, while hats and shoes are decorated with dainty ruchings of the narrower kinds. There are also amusing little necklaces, in which soft lace and tiny beads combine to give a charming effect.

STAINING A FLOOR

A Good Brush & Clean Floor Essential

The actual application of the chosen stain to the clean, dry, freshly-swept floor is the easiest part of the process of staining.

A good brush should be used. A good brush is economical, for it can be washed in soap and water afterwards and put away for further use. Sufficient stain to cover the whole floor should be ready. As applied by most people, a gallon of stain covers with a single coat from 350-400 square feet of floor. Hard woods do not need as much as this, but soft, unconditioned woods may need more.

Apply the stain always in the same direction as the grain of the wood, and take care not to let the edge of one patch dry before the next patch is stained, or unevenness of tint may result. This point is one that must be specially watched for when using a quick-drying spirit stain.

Finally, when the whole floor has been covered, allow plenty of time for drying. The longer this can go on, the better will it be for the ultimate appearance of the floor.

In conclusion, a word must be said about water stains. These are very cheap and fairly satisfactory, but they do not have any value in preserving the floor, or "feeding" the wood. They are very simply made at home.

One popular water stain is made by dissolving an ounce or two of potassium permanganate crystals in a pint of water, and it is applied

SAVOURY BALLS

An Unusual Addition for the Soup

These are very nice, and also economical when a young family is being provided for. Added to the usual soup, after they are well boiled the children will like them.

Mix together 1/4 lb. flour, 4 ounces of chopped suet, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a little chopped parsley, a seasoning of salt and pepper, and a little finely minced onion.

Add water to make a stiff dough, form into balls, roll each in flour, and put them into boiling water.

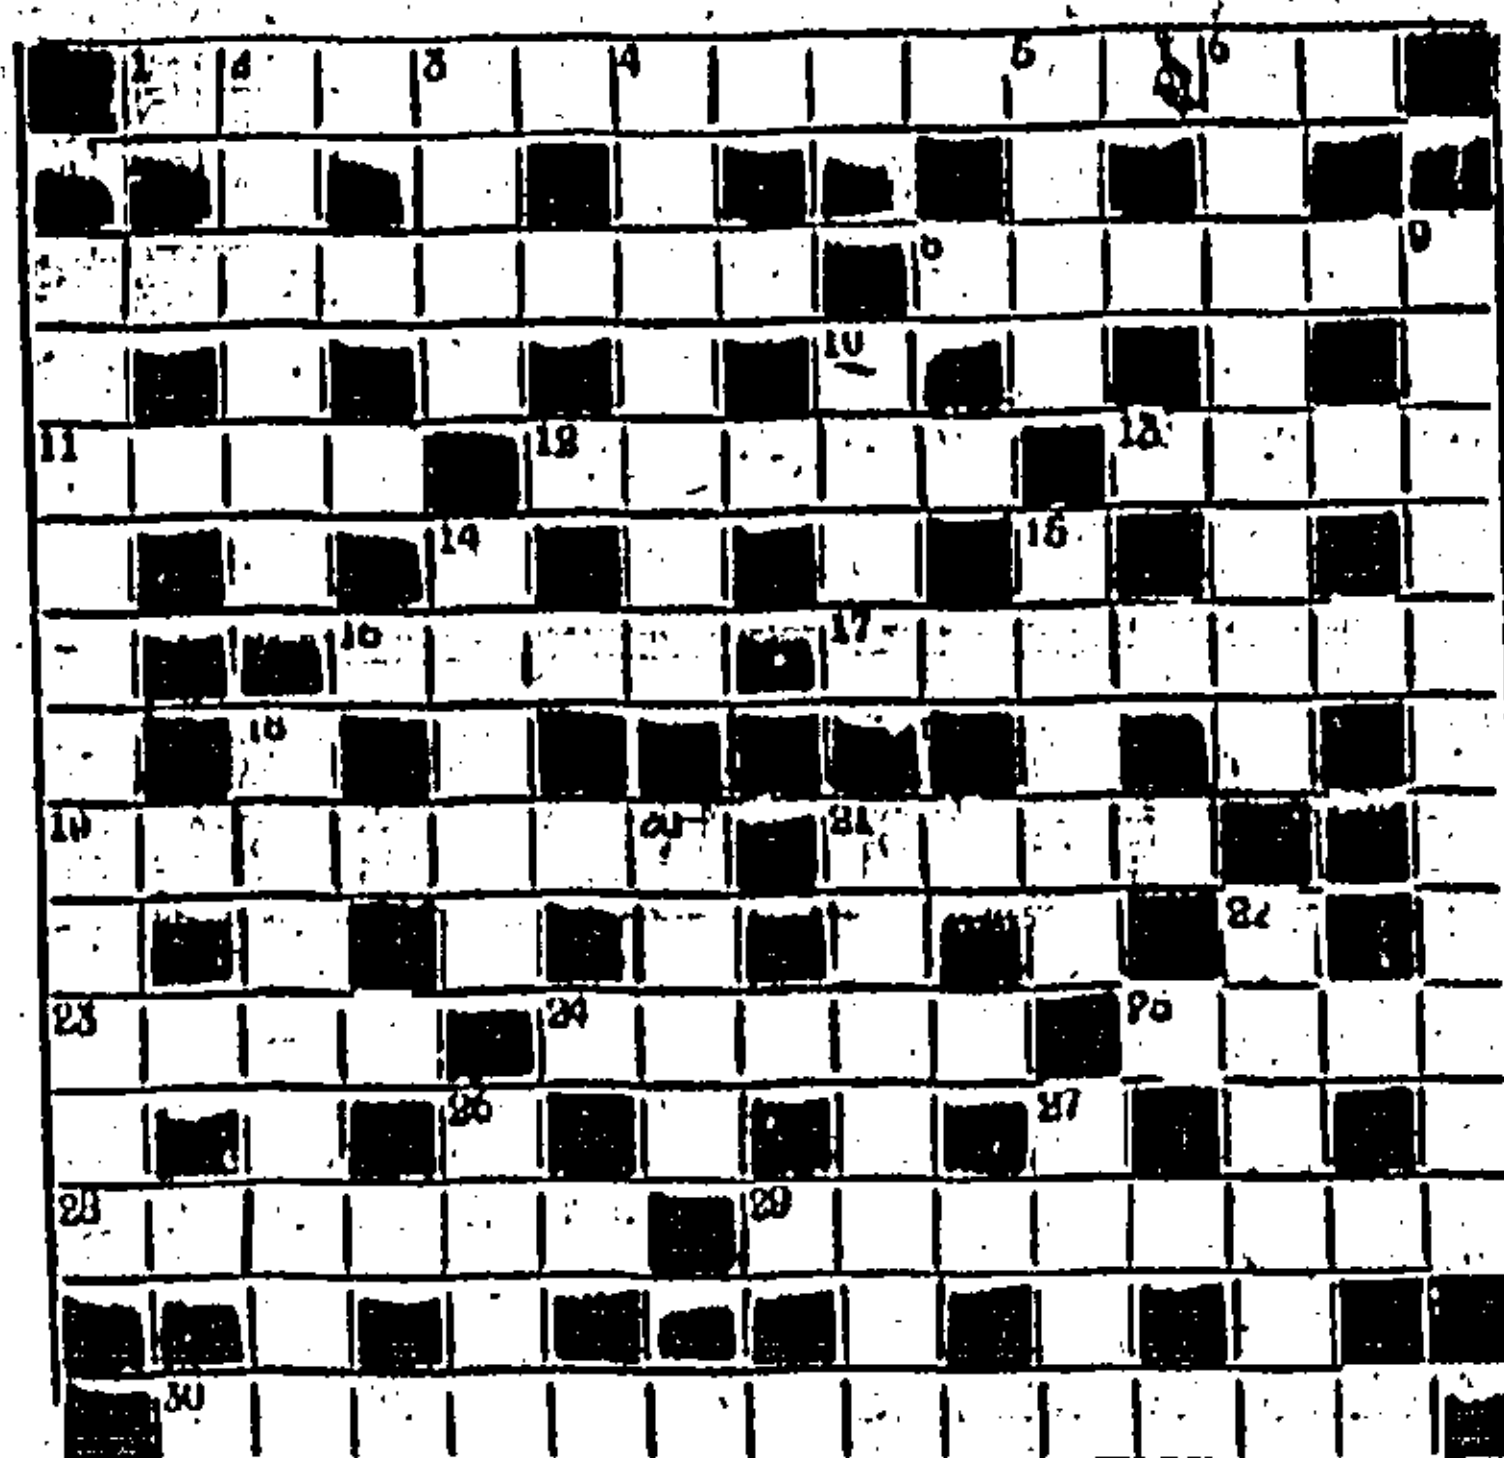

Cook for an hour, and at the time of serving the soup, drop them into it.

PARSLEY—SPRING TOUCH

It is a good idea always to keep a bowl of chopped parsley on the kitchen table when you are preparing a spring meal. Almost everything you serve can be garnished with the bright green leaves and they go far toward toning up languid appetites.

to the floor with a cloth, mop, or old sponge. This stain is apt to prove fugitive, and the following will be found better:—Dissolve 5 ounces of Vandyke brown crystals in two pints of boiling water. This is a dark brown stain. If one ounce of sodium bichromate or potassium bichromate be added also, an extremely dark stain is produced.

LOVE or MONEY?

BY H. W. CORLEY

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY

MONA TOWNSEND, beautiful young widow, inherits her husband's millions with the provision that she must not wed. Her marriage, arranged by her husband's lawyer, who was Mona's employer, was a strange affair, leaving her free at the end of a year to become her husband's wife in actuality or secure a divorce. Mona, in love with her husband's nephew, BARRY TOWNSEND, agreed to the marriage when she thought Barry was lost to her.

She employs LOTTIE CARL, a fashion model, as her secretary companion and they set out for South America, where Barry and STEVE SACCARRELL are partners in a diamond mine. Mona hopes for a reconciliation with Barry. She also feels Barry is entitled to a share of his uncle's fortune and wants to find a way to arrange this legally.

Learning that Barry and Steve are on vacation at Holiday Island, the girls leave their boat at Port of Spain. There they meet Bud who takes them to Holiday Island. Barry and Steve are cordial but their greeting lacks warmth. Mona wishes she had not come. Barry does not ask for explanations and she cannot make them.

MISS GRACIE, middle-aged spinster, comes from Port of Spain to serve as chaperone.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIII

For all Lottie's artful planning,

dinner at Holiday House that evening was singularly unromantic. There were no lovely gowns and there was no lingering over a candle-lit table, no strolling in the moonlight. It proved to be the first evening since the girls' arrival that no one dressed for dinner.

Their departure from Grenada was delayed, the carpenters taking a great deal of time to decide finally that they could not begin work on the hangar for at least a week. The motor boat left the harbour two hours later than they had planned. Sam, the native boy, was at the wheel while Barry and Steve spent most of the trip in rather disgruntled discussion.

When they arrived at the house they found the table on the verandah still set for dinner, the flowers drooping under the electric light and fireflies gathering on the terrace. The food in the kitchen had long since cooled and lost its flavourousness.

"I sent the maids home for the night," Miss Gracie said, unperturbed. "There seemed to be no knowing when you'd come. I thought you might have dined at Grenada."

"Well, we can't lure those carpenters here for a week yet," Steve announced. "I was going to buy this girl a pair of monkeys to take back to New York."

Back to New York! Mona felt her heart throb sharply, her cheeks suddenly grow cold. Steve and Barry were thinking then of their departure!

"Don't buy those monkeys yet a while," Barry said hastily and Mona sighed, reassured. "We're not going to let Mona and Lottie get away for a long time. They haven't seen half the sights yet."

"Well, they've seen what many a girl in Port of Spain would give her eye teeth to see anyhow," Miss Gracie interposed comfortably.

"What's that, Miss Gracie?" The older woman's fat face crinkled in a smile and her kind eyes were hidden for a moment.

"This house," she nodded vehemently. "Barry and Steve are popular young men, you know. When they come to our house—"

"Did you ever know a girl named Celeste?" asked Mona idly.

Barry and Steve glanced at each other and burst out laughing. "Let Lottie tell you that one, Barry. I can't do it justice."

They listened to Lottie's diverting version of the affair on the boat but when she related the gift of Barry's portrait to Celeste the men became instantly sober.

"Great heavens, that practically constitutes an engagement!" Steve exclaimed.

"But she was honest, anyhow. She insisted Barry hadn't paid much attention to her," retorted Lottie.

Steve rose. "Yes, that's honest, only a little too mild. You might as well say a man pays no attention to a mosquito buzzing around him 24 hours of the day."

"I think I'll say good night," Mona decided, rising. "I'm tired, hot and have a headache."

"Anyhow we had a fine trip," Lottie announced, as she rose to follow her friend. "Well, good night!"

As the two girls mounted the stairs Lottie said quietly, "At least Barry doesn't want us to hurry away!"

"Oh, I don't know!" Mona's voice was weary. "He could hardly have said less. Steve practically put us aboard the Miranda."

"He didn't mean it that way," maintained Lottie. "He really did promise to get me some monkeys and I told him to wait until we were ready to leave."

In her flowing negligee Mona stood before the mirror, brush in hand, her bronze hair floating over her shoulders. For a moment neither girl spoke. The brush plied evenly with long, deft strokes.

"She's a great one," was Lottie's thought. "Her heart is breaking but she doesn't forget the 40 strokes—or is it 50 or 100?"

It was, as a matter of fact, 150 that night. The brush was replaced in the dresser drawer. Mona moved from chair to closet hanging this away and smoothing out that, taking out fresh garments for the next day.

Seated on the bed, Lottie swung one foot reflectively and watched her.

"Maybe we'd better go soon, Lottie," Mona remarked presently in a low voice.

"Before you've talked about the will or anything to Barry?"

Mona spread both hands wide.

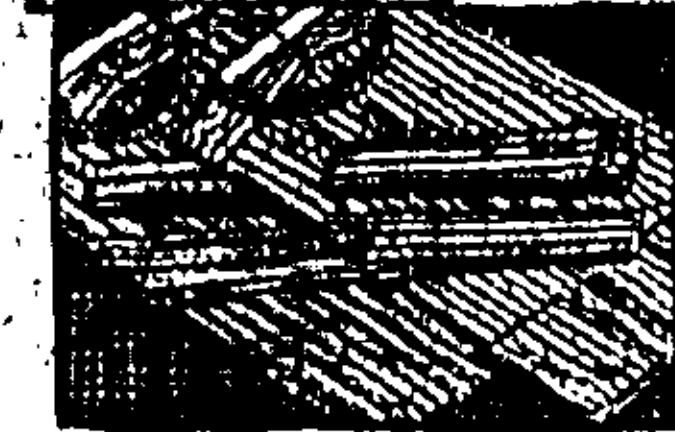

"How can I? I might possibly say something to Steve but neither one—"

"Neither one has recognized your marriage," finished Lottie, rising. "Well, I'm ready to go if you say so, Mona, but my advice is to get into action! Listen, tomorrow, I'll corral Steve and take him some place. That will leave you and Barry alone so you can talk to him. Tell him why you came. Tell him you love him. You do, don't you? He can't do anything more than call you a forward busy and after that you'll know where you stand! Tell him you're the fourth wealthiest woman in New York now and want—"

MACON GREETS DAWN ON FIRST FLIGHT

ON into the dawn—the U. S. S. Macon heads into the gray mist of dawn as she begins her maiden voyage at Akron, O. This striking picture was taken a few moments after the Macon had cast away from her mooring mast and lifted away under power.

Scenes as the U. S. S. Macon, sister ship of the ill-starred Akron, made her maiden flight at Akron, O. Upper left, a close-up of the control dials under the ship's nose, with Commander A. H. Doolittle at the controls. Upper right, the huge stern of the ship as it came out of the airlock. Lower left, Mrs. A. H. Doolittle, wife of the commander, and her daughter, Margarita. Lower right, the Macon in the airlock, a comparison of sizes. Center, the Macon at the start of her flight as Queen of the Air at the moment when she cast away from her mooring mast.

Doing the thing he likes best—flying an airplane—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh displays this smile. This first close-up picture was made of the colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh arrived at Pittsburgh after a hazardous trip.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1933.

THE OPIUM EVIL

The Government's decision to import a new brand of prepared opium to replace the Monopoly product discontinued when the local factory was closed down, suggested an important change viewed against the long and uneventful history of the Monopoly. Enquiries, however, show that it amounted to no more than a measure of economy; the wisdom of which is to be questioned. It appears that the substitute now being supplied from Singapore in pursuance of an arrangement with the Monopoly there, does not appeal to the "refined" smoker, and the smoker's preference is about to be, if not already, freely exercised by discrimination in favour of other brands. Of these, there are a variety: "foreign recognized" ones like "Red Lion," hitherto occupying a favour second only to Hongkong's, and others without benefit of official blessing, but nevertheless extensively consumed on account of their comparative cheapness.

We may take into account the efforts of our Preventative Officers against these "competitive" brands, but it is a generally conceded fact that despite intensive campaigning against smuggling, illegal opium continues to make its way into the Colony. From all accounts indeed, it has been coming in in increasingly large quantities within recent weeks; and this is said to be mainly due to the introduction of the unpopular Singapore product which, while offered at the former high price, has not the former excellence to commend it. The position is one extremely favourable to smugglers, who are taking full advantage of the situation as demonstrated by recent seizures. Failing to secure the bulk of the illicit drug in transit, the authorities have fallen back to extensive raiding and closing of divans as the only known means of cutting off the demand, and in almost every case the depressing discovery has been made of "Red Lion," or one or several of other debased mixtures that generally manage to find their way into these out-of-the-way places. If Government policy (as has been declared) is to put down smoking by a gradual raising of prices, we fear a disappointment. There is, of course, some logic for the supposition that as the present generation of addicts disappear, opium smoking will have been made so prohibitive that it cannot be indulged in by the majority of the class now addicted to it, but this is an ideal pursued in disregard of ugly realities. We have contiguous to us a country where, despite assurances to the contrary, extensive poppy cultivation is carried on. When cultivation has been suppressed in one province, it is taken up in a more intensive form in another, so that for all practical purposes, the output and facilities for the masses remain the same. An allied problem is the absence of proper recreative pursuits for the lower classes, to whom an evening spent at an opium divan has about the same object and utility as an evening spent by others at a club. Addiction to the insidious drug is acquired with continued practice until the victim is so completely in its grip, he is not able to help himself. How many crimes in local Police records have been committed by victims driven to desperation by the great craving—crimes which they would not have thought of in their normal senses? But this is not to be cured by action tending to the use of poor quality opium and it is seriously suggested that Government policy is in danger of being defeated by the measure of false economy recently taken. We do not propose to deal with this matter further except to point to a possible broader scope for Government activity in the removal of some of the causes for the habit.

This is only to be secured by education and propaganda in which the co-operation of Chinese members of the medical profession may well be enlisted. It is assumed that hitherto no known effective cure has been found, except in a few rare instances when the process has been long and laborious and has depended for its eventual success on the determination and self-control of the patient. The small percentage of success however should not discourage further efforts in the research for a 100 per cent. curative agent, and while that is being attempted, clinics, or more properly speaking, sanatoria for cases might be usefully established, not only for the purpose of assisting in research work but also offering some assurance for those in the early stages of addiction. Something will then have been attempted which will be far more useful than reliance only on price-increase or on the futile war against traffickers.

Our Prison Problem

Prisons filled to overflowing, and convicts turned away! What a subject for a Gilbert and Sullivan to exploit. Not even their delightful "Trial By Jury" commands such scope for a satirical libretto as Hongkong's prison "comedy". But it is a comedy of errors, not of wit. Behind it all lies a problem second only in importance to that of the annual water shortage. This situation of having twice as many prisoners as accommodation is not new. It has not risen overnight. For a very considerable time, the Government has been confronted with the urgent need of increased space. Prison officials have made significant observations from time to time. It has even affected the police, revenue officers and other officials concerned with preserving law and order in the Colony. They complain that it is little use making arrests and securing convictions. They "get their man" only to see him turned loose after serving but part of his sentence. Magistrates are overworked, daily sending offenders to gaol, only to see them evade justice through past shortsightedness. Quite apart from letting loose undesirables on the public, cognisance has to be taken of the deplorable conditions to which prisoners are subjected as a result of overcrowding. The position is an acute one, fraught with unhappy possibilities. More than once have prison officials been faced with threatened revolt by inmates. For a long time all has not been well at Victoria gaol. Overcrowding merely aggravates the position. It is a problem requiring early attention or consequences of a serious nature may result.

OVER THE OPIUM PIPE AH LO DISCUSSES HIS PET PROBLEM

(By C. V.-L. for the Telegraph)

When I first met Ah Lo these many years ago, he was in decidedly prosperous circumstances. You could tell that by the affable smile and nod he had for everybody, by the swish of his immaculate gown as he swept gracefully to your desk to take up with you the hundred-and-one matters connected with harbour transport. Stovedoro, ship-chandler, coal merchant and junk contractor, there seemed to have been nothing connected with harbour transport that he did not know. There were times when his knowledge extended beyond his strictly business ken and he saw much that lay beneath the surface—the waterfront undercurrents not always perceptible to you or me.

Fortune changed with the times, and when I renewed his friendship the other night, it was obvious that in the interim he had had more than his fair share of business reverses, confessing to many disappointments in which I could easily sympathise. He had the sharp acumen and patient perseverance of the native businessman, and I predicted for him an early return to his former prosperity, for which he thanked me exceedingly and invited me to continue the talk over the opium pipe.

Now, his friends will concede there is nothing fundamentally wrong with Ah Lo, except for this weakness—if it could be so regarded—for the pipe that soothes. With the privilege of an old cronie, I had taken him to task for it on more than one occasion, but always he had grinned disarmingly, closed his ears to counsels irrespective of these being advanced on psychological or on pathological grounds, and steadfastly refused to believe there was anything amoral in the indulgence. He had seen the sa-tien get beautifully inebriated on high-powered liquors. His own preference as he put it, was the quiet and dignified ritual of the opium pipe. In times of prosperity (and he heaved a regretful sigh here) he had stimulated his outlook on life—was an incentive to further endeavours. In times of depression like the present, it was his solace, although because of present necessitous circumstances, he agreed it was not to be indulged in to the former extent.

MY FRIEND IN A NEW LIGHT.

Full well I remember those moments of intimacy established over the opium pipe. Then his usually business-like but sometimes insouciant exterior dropped away like a mask, and the subconscious self that is the scholar and philosopher peeped out in many scintillating facets, refreshing and instructive to the beholder. No affair of public or national import could have taken place without it being brought within the capacity of his genius for the rhetoric, and a most learned dissertation on present-day trends in social and political outlooks would be liberally interspersed with truths from the Classics of which, true scholar that he is, he has an ample stock.

Over the opium pipe that night we foretook the usual inquisition of Chiang Kai-shek and other military and political busybodies to inquire into the matter nearer home of opium, its quality, its price. As can be easily imagined, the subject touched him deeply. A metallic tube from which he had just squeezed sufficient of the stuff to make a pill, arrested my attention, because it was so very different from the earthen or horn pots in which I had seen Hongkong Monopoly opium packed. More interesting was the information that it was opium now being imported by the Hongkong Government from Singapore following upon its recent decision to close down the local factory and dispense with the export services of the boiling staff.

WE SHARE A JUSTIFIABLE PRIDE.

My friend Ah Lo had always shared with our City Fathers a justifiable pride on the score of our turning out the best opium in the Far East, and he now deplored the step as cutting local smokers from a cherished supply. Ah Lo's reasons for his preference were not set out too clearly to a non-smoker, but it is safe deduction that his arguments covered much the same grounds as those relating to the respective qualities of different alcoholic vintages. Connoisseur in his own particular line, he is therefore to be trusted for the pronouncement that Singapore opium does not taste quite so nice as our former Monopoly brand. In short, it does not confer on Ah Lo and company, bon viveurs, an equal satisfaction.

The revelation made me prick my ears up. Here is information, I thought, of a sort upon which his expert knowledge could be solicited. While he was busy with his pipe I had time to summon up the probabilities, and when he had finished his second (or was it his third?) smoke, inquired as to a possible reaction in a lowering of Government sales with a corresponding increase in smuggling of cheaper products.

His exposition of the new situation was not free from the intrusion of his scholastic make-up, but briefly it bears a close analogy to our saying that in the effort to save a few pennies, pounds were being thrown away. A few thousand dollars at the outset may have been retained by savings in factory salaries, but against this he set off the big drop he predicted for Government sales, as smokers, not relishing the newly-imported Monopoly stuff, began to exercise their preference for other kinds, and undoubtedly much cheaper.

HE SAYS IT IS FALSE ECONOMY.

My friend made it clear that he had all the respect in the world for the long experience to which our present Superintendent of Imports and Exports could lay claim to, but it seemed to him that the Government had been ill-advised on a measure which he was sure would turn out to be one of false economy. He pointed to an intensive raiding being undertaken of divans as a necessity impelled by the new change, and to the discovery of contraband opium in almost every instance as vindication of his views. "You may find Red Lion opium," he remarked, somewhat pompously,

The Very Idea!

REACHING OUR GAOL

By Eddie Kelly, Sing-Singer.

WE see that over two hundred prisoners have been released from Hongkong's prisons in the past three weeks, because there is no accommodation for them.

It seems that the gaols are so overcrowded that whenever anyone takes a deep breath, all the rest have to breathe out.

Despite protests by correspondents in the newspapers the prison authorities remain adamant.

In these days of financial stringency, prisoners cannot expect to enjoy the hospitality of the Hongkong government any longer.

Too many shroffs are on the broad line—tapians can hardly make ends meet, and the Treasury officials are also going about with patches on their pants.

These people must receive first consideration, so it has been decided that in future prisoners must fend for themselves.

It seems, nevertheless, a cruel hoax to play on our convicts, whose only crime, after all, is the fact that they are criminals.

Many of them entered Lanchuk on the distinct understanding that they would be allowed to remain there for at least twelve months.

What do we find? A heartless government repudiates its promises, and these poor, poor men are suddenly thrown out on the cruel, cold world. Bereft of home and sustenance, they wander the streets of the city, not knowing what to do.

Of what use is it to commit crime when this is all the thanks they get? The downward path opens before them. Discouraged, they enter business.

Some of them will reach the lowest depths of depravity by becoming tapians. Others, less fortunate, may sink so far that they ultimately become shroffs.

And have you ever seen anything as vengeful as an ex-prisoner who has become a tapian or a shroff?

It is easier for a rich man to wriggle through the eye of a needle than for a coolie to enter Franks's Hotel.

A LITTLE PROBLEM

A coolie snatches a roll of cloth, feeling tired of working for his living, and forthwith is told he must spend three months as the guest of the Government.

After six weeks, he is told his cell is required for his pal Hoo Flung Wat, and with many mutterings and hard words, he is banished for ten years.

In four days, he is back and arrested.

Arraigned on this terrible charge, he is sentenced to twelve months.

Who wins?

THOSE SOLICITORS.

We have been thinking, a habit we have when we have nothing better to do, and we have been thinking about the little list of costs attached to the last writ we managed to keep out of court.

We are only waiting now for the time when a solicitor wants a note taken of an important case he is interested in. Something like this:

To taking note	$50
To time spent taking note	$43.50
To professional services	$95
To use of typewriter	$10
To research work, visiting witnesses and verifying accuracy of note	$20
To travelling expenses, room and board	$10
To services of typist	$3
Total	$231.50

Say, $250 to cover all.

Wait! We have forgotten one item. We have forgotten to charge for the interview arrangement to take the note.

"In the lot they have seized. Maybe Red Lion is not so good, but is certainly cheaper and can rank with this Singapore opium in refinement. Retainment of an inferior substitute at the same high price without the former excellence to commend it means simply the holding out of a big inducement to smuggling, and you may be sure that traffickers will be taking the fullest advantage of the position."

"We've finally reached an agreement. He'll let us go this evening, if we give him half of anything we win at bridge."

U.S. AND SOVIET TRADEBARTER OF PRODUCTS SUGGESTED

New York, May 30. It is understood that negotiations for the barter of products will open shortly between the Government and representatives of the U.S.S.R.

Products especially to be considered will be American cotton and livestock and Russian manganese, chrome-ore, pulpwood and asbestos.

Ex-Senator Brookhart, who was recently appointed special assistant to the Department of Agriculture to study the possibility of expanding the United States exports in Eastern Europe, declared he will give his close attention to the United States and Soviet trade which, in 1932, was only a tenth of the volume of previous years.—Reuter.

RUBBER INDUSTRY BILLTHIRD READING IN HOUSE OF LORDS

London, May 30. The Rubber Industry Bill was read a third time and passed in the House of Lords this evening. It provides for a compulsory contribution to a rubber research fund on the basis of a fraction of a penny per pound of rubber manufactures.—British Wireless.

EIGHTEEN NEW AEROPLANESEQUIPMENT FOR CHINA

(Special to "Telegraph")

Shanghai, May 31. The finish of the three month's campaign for aeroplane funds by the Chinese National Aviation Association was announced by the Mayor of Greater Shanghai, Mr. Wu Te-chien last night.

The grand total realised is approximately $1,400,000 which is $600,000 short of the goal aimed for.

Orderers for the purchase of eighteen planes have already been placed and the first of these machines will be officially christened to-morrow.

According to plans there will be a "Shanghai Merchants' Plane," "Labourers' Plane," a "Women's Plane," and a "Children's Plane," etc., each named according to the contributions.—Reuter.

JAPANESE TRADE COMPETITIONQUESTIONS IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, May 30. Questions relating to textile and other goods produced by cheap labour in Japan were asked in the House of Commons to-day.

The President of Board of Trade, Mr. Walter Runciman said he was aware of the growing extent of Japanese competition and of the low level of wages ruling for industrial workers in Japan, and the whole question was under consideration. Necessary steps were being taken to prevent unfair competition against British manufactures extending within the Empire.

Notice, as announced, had been given of the withdrawal of the West African Colonies from the Anglo-Japanese trade agreement so that they could be in the position to give preference to British goods.—British Wireless.

FAVOURITE BEATEN BY A HEADEpsom Woodcote Stakes Result

(Special to "Telegraph")

London, May 30. The Old Pretender, quoted at 5 to 2, won the Woodcote Stakes at Epsom to-day, beating Bermuda, who started favourite at evens by a head. Bozzer's Gloom (6 to 1) was placed third, three lengths behind Bermuda. There were six runners.—Reuter.

CHILD'S TRAGIC FALLTHROAT CUT BY BROKEN BASIN

While carrying an earthen basin in her home at Queen's Road West, yesterday Ying King-fung, aged 13, tripped over the doorstep and fell against a wall opposite. The basin broke and she was caught against a jagged fragment which entered her throat. The child was rushed to Hospital, but was dead on arrival.

DAY BY DAY NEWS IN BRIEF

WITHOUT STRONG AFFECTION, AND HUMANITY OF HEART, AND CRATITUDE TO THAT BEING WHOSE CODE IS MERCY, AND WHOSE GREAT ATTRIBUTE IS BENEVOLENCE TO ALL THINGS THAT BREATHE, TRUE HAPPINESS CAN NEVER BE ATTAINED.—Dickens.

Ma Seung-man, a visitor at the Kam Toi Hotel, attempted suicide by swallowing a large quantity of opium yesterday, and was conveyed to Hospital in a comatose state. The dose proved fatal in another case. Yung-chun, a young woman, Shok Young-chun, living at 18, Aberdeen Street, who died early this morning after admission to Hospital.

Preserving England's CountrysideLIFE QUEST OF COUNTY SURVEYOR

London. To keep unbroken the enchanting spell of the countryside, to save it from the ugly incursions of industrialism, and to make the coloured country-side that roll away and away a paradise for hikers and for those who journey from the teeming towns in search of quietude and beauty.

That has been the life's object of Mr. G. H. Jack who is retiring after 26 years' service as county surveyor and county architect of Herefordshire.

But he leaves a county only to take the whole country for his canvas, since he will immediately join, in the capacity of consulting expert, the headquarters staff of the Council for the Preservation of Rural England.

The first thing he believes is that the men who make the roads and bridges should have high ideals before them and so, in his capacity as County Bridge Master, he trained a band of local craftsmen to take in interest in the aesthetics of bridge building.

CRAFT GUILD.

Then he suggested that the men should band together in a craft guild—the Bridge Brothers if Herefordshire—and pledge themselves to a high standard of workmanship. This they have done.

So in Herefordshire to-day bridges dating from as far back as the 14th century have been widened and improved for modern traffic without destroying their picturesque appearance, and Mr. Jack can claim with justifiable pride that in modernising its roads Herefordshire has lost none of its old houses and only two of its old bridges.—Reuter.

HOW TO MAKE A CUP OF TEACONTROVERSY IN ENGLAND

London. A storm is raging (almost literally) in the tea-cups of England. Protagonists of the various schools of thought on the subject are writing to the press to tell a thirsty world how to make a Perfect Cup of Tea.

The importance of this can be gauged only by realising that in the United Kingdom every day more than 100,000,000 cups of tea are drunk—enough altogether to float a ten-brick ship from the Indies.

Here are the five golden rules for a good pot of tea according to a mere man:

Heat teapot with hot water and empty it.

A heaped teaspoon for each person and one for the pot.

It is essential that water which has just come to the boil should be used. Water that has been boiling for some time will never draw the tea properly.

Let the tea infuse for four to five minutes, and

See that the inside of your kettle is free from deposit.

REVISION OF RULES.Craigengower Members Have Copies.

In compliance with the request expressed at a recent extraordinary meeting, members of the Craigengower Cricket Club have now been circulated with copies of the proposed revised Rules and Bye-laws of the Club.

Notice has been given that an Extraordinary General Meeting of the members of the Club will be held at the Club House on Wednesday, June 21, at 6.30 p.m. for the purpose of passing the proposed revised Rules and Bye-laws.

In the event of the passing of these Rules and Bye-laws a confirmatory meeting will be held in the Club House on Wednesday, July 5, at 6.30 p.m.

DELHI.

A Chinese woman, Fung Lin, 22, threw herself from the seawall at Kennedy Town yesterday, but was rescued by boatpeople.

Poon Sze, a washerwoman, at the Ever New Laundry at Shaikwan, was taken to Hospital yesterday through her hand being caught in a pressing machine.

The Lloyd Tristino liner, Conte Rosso, left Singapore for Hongkong at 6 p.m. yesterday and will arrive at daylight on Saturday, berthing at the Kowloon Wharf. She will sail for Shanghai at 11 a.m. on Saturday.

British Army's DonkeyBILLY OF "GIB"

Gibraltar. The only donkey in the British Army—mentioned in the recent Army Estimates—is Billy of Gibraltar.

Billy has just been interviewed by Reuter's correspondent who found that he was a handsome grey donkey, with a peculiar black line rising from his forehead to the tip of his tail. He is five years old.

Every morning Billy starts work at seven, carrying wet clothes from the military laundry here to the drying-ground, and returning them to the laundry when they are dry. He finishes work at three and every wet day, of course, is a holiday for him. He lives in the stables at Windmill Hill Detention Barracks. His hobby is sun-bathing on the grass.

BILLY'S DIET.

Billy's official diet consists of Hay, Barley, Bran.

But, as he is a great favourite among the troops, he also receives many extra delicacies.

He is considered the strongest donkey in Gibraltar. He has to be pulled 5 cwt. of laundry in a two-wheeled cart weighing 2½ cwt. over the rough roads at Windmill Hill Flats. He is of Moorish origin and was bought in Spain on Dec. 14, 1929, by Lieutenant E.J.J. Poona, R.A.S.C., to replace an old donkey which had carried out similar duties for fifteen years.

Billy has only one fault. He is considered a dangerous kicker.—Reuter.

"NOTHING UNDER 70 CLUB"AUSTRALIA'S AGED IN HARMONY

Sydney, N.S. Wales. Members of the "Nothing Under 70 Club" decided at their first annual meeting to visit institutions for the aged in and around Sydney.

To cheer the old folks up, Dorisive laughter, groans, and loud cries of dissent followed the suggestion of a speaker that the procedure should be altered in view of the limited years of service which, he said, were ahead of members. A sweet-faced old lady shook her umbrella in well-simulated indignation.

There were present 24 members, whose collective ages totalled more than 1800 years. The oldest male member is 91 years of age. An inquiry as to the age of the oldest lady brought the crisp retort from the president that there were no old ladies in the club.

It was a happy assemblage, typical of an organisation whose members, mellowed rather than embittered by the passing of the years, find in association with those of their own day and generation a community of interest and a useful field of service to their less fortunate fellows.

During the year, members have broadcast entertainments, have appeared in a talking film entitled "Nothing Under Seventy," and have cheered the inmates of many charitable institutions by their fellowship.

Members refer with pride to the fact that theirs is a "harmony" club. Before the meeting dispersed, songs from the club's extensive repertoire, ranging from "Come into the Garden, Maude," to "The more we are together," were sung with cheerful vigour. But it was impossible to escape the note of sadness when it came to "Auld Lang Syne."—Reuter.

LATE CZAR'S WATCHON PUBLIC SALE IN DELHI

Delhi. A costly watch, believed to have been the personal property of the late Czar of Russia was offered for sale here for 25,000 rupees (about £1,875).

The watch contains pictures of seven generations of the British Royal Family and seven generations of Czars.

It is reported that the watch was brought to Kabul after the Russian revolution and kept at the Kabul museum, from which it was stolen when the museum was looted. It later passed through the hands of a shopkeeper and now was offered for sale by a Punjab merchant.—Reuter.

MALAYAN CHAMPIONSHIP WON and British Record Broken with the help of PHOSFERINE

CHAMPION.
OOI LEONG TEIK writes:—
“It is with the greatest pleasure that I write to testify to the benefits I have received by taking Phosferine during my training for the 1931 Malayan Weight-Lifting Championships.
As I had to reduce some seven or eight pounds off my normal bodyweight in order to enable me to compete in the 9-stone class, I had to go into very strenuous training, and with the help of Phosferine, I not only won the championship of that class, but also the individual Championship, and, in addition I broke a British Record.
I therefore have no hesitation in recommending Phosferine to any physical culturist or athlete, whether he be in ordinary training or preparing for a competition, as it GIVES ENERGY AND ENDURANCE and RENEWS BROKEN-DOWN TISSUE.”

FAULTLESS INNINGS

DOUBLE CENTURY FOR HAMMOND

CRICKET AT ITS BEST

NOTTS STAGE GREAT
RECOVERY

London, May 30.
Cricket in its happiest mood was seen on county grounds during the last three days, fighting finishes and wonderful individual performances featuring the programme.

John Berry Hobbs, now in his 51st year, played one of the finest innings of his long career when he scored 221 against the West Indies. The Surrey and former Test idol was masterful and played an almost chanceless innings.

Walter Hammond quickly followed up his 178 against Middlesex by flogging the Leicester attack to score 206, whilst Roach of the West Indies and B. H. Lyon the dashing Gloucester captain, contributed magnificent performances with the bat.

The most entertaining cricket came from the meeting of Gloucester and Leicester in which Gloucester won by nine wickets. Leicester, after having 518 registered against their first innings total of 234, faced the task of scoring 280 to avoid an innings defeat.

They accomplished this and managed to top the 370 mark, but could not stop Gloucester from annexing the fifteen points.

ESSEX AGAIN.

this year helped themselves to a further fifteen points when they defeated Gloucester.

This match was made unusual by the fact that the teams tied on first innings, each aggregating 174. Essex, however, obtained a winning grip when they scored 351 in the return visit.

Notts obtained a remarkable victory over Middlesex, staging a recovery which took the Lord's team by surprise.

When Middlesex declared their first innings at 319 for 9, and dismissed Notts for 192, it looked odds on the Londoners winning, but Sam Staples came along to wile out Middlesex in their second knock for 183, and Notts, seizing their opportunity, hit out vigorously to obtain the required 247 for the loss of five wickets.

GREAT BATTING SIDE.

That the West Indies are gradually settling down into a formidable batting side is indicated, not only by their last few matches, but in the manner in which they played the Surrey attack to score 460 in their first innings and 100 for five in the second. Roach battled in great style to record 180.

Sussex received another slight setback when they had to rest content with first innings spoils against Warwick. The match was greatly restricted through rain, there being sufficient time only for Sussex to pass the Warwick score with three wickets in hand.

WINNING FRENCH CHAMPIONSHIPS

Paris, May 30.

English tennis stock rose two or three points to-day, when successes were enjoyed in the French championships.

Fred Perry and G. P. Hughes, the English Davis Cup pair, annexed the Men's Doubles title by easily beating Vivian McGrath and Adrian Quist, the Australians in four sets.

Perry and Hughes took the first two sets without much difficulty, eased up for a breather in the third, and went out to win the fourth at the twelfth game.

PERRY'S SECOND WIN.

Perry followed this up by reaching the final of the Mixed Doubles in company with Betty Nuthall.

They enjoyed the distinction of beating N. V. Farquharson, the South African, and Miss Ryan of America in the semi-final. The English couple, after conceding the first set, swept all before them, and ran away with the third set to love.
Jack Crawford, Australia's leading player and Miss Scriven were winners in the other semi-final, beating H. G. N. Lee and Miss James, another English pair, in straight sets.

RESULTS.

The detailed scores were:

Men's Doubles Final.

F. Perry and G. P. Hughes (British) beat V. McGrath and A. Quist (Australia) 6-2, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

Mixed Doubles Semi-Finals

F. Perry and Miss Nuthall (British) beat N. V. Farquharson and Miss Ryan 4-6, 6-4, 6-0.
J. Crawford and Miss Scriven beat H. G. N. Lee and Miss James 6-4, 6-2.

“BABE” RUTH LIKES BEER

HIS FIRST TOT OF THE 3.2

New York.
George Herman Ruth, the Baseball fellow, wandered out of the Yankee exhibition game with the Dodgers in Brooklyn in the fifth inning recently and straight into the first bottle of 3.2 beer he encountered since the brew became legal.

The babe, a connoisseur of beer in the old days, appraised with a careful eye the bottle offered him by the locker room attendant.

“Humm,” he said, “it looks like beer.”
The attendant removed the cap and the Babe tilted back his head. Finally he set the bottle down and nodded wisely.

“All right,” he said, “for quenching your thirst. A couple of those won't go bad after a tough game in July.”—Router.

Los Angeles, May 30.

In the world's welterweight boxing championship here, Jimmy McLarnin beat the holder, Young Corbett, on a technical knock out, the referee stopping the fight in the first of a ten round contest.
The fight lasted 2 mins. 37 secs.—Router.

LEAGUE TENNIS STARTS

K.C.C. SHOW UP IMPRESSIVELY

U.S.R.C. SWAMP UNIVERSITY

NARROW SHAVE FOR I.R.C.

(By “Veritas”)

Heavy courts hampered contestants in the first series of matches of the lawn tennis league yesterday, but four of the five “B” Division games were settled, with results more or less as anticipated.

The Chinese Recreation Club courts were left sodden by Monday's rain and it was quite impossible for the C.R.C. and the Recreio to play off. This was distinctly disappointing as the encounter was of no little importance.

Apert from the Hongkong Cricket Club's achievement in holding the I.L.C. to 5½ sets, the best performance of the day came the Kowloon Cricket Club, whose totally new second string visited the Civil Service and won handsomely by seven sets to two.

The K.C.C. demonstrated that here they have a very useful team. G. C. Burnett, with last summer's “A” Division experience to assist him, and Staples, a sound tactician, were in fine form, winning two sets to love and conceding only two games in the third.
Another pair, Ferguson, former Y.M.C.A. leaguer and Jack, who has played regularly for the K.C.C., carried off three sets and should settle down into a good pair.

Incidentally Ferguson was opposed to his old Y.M.C.A. partner, J. Wilson, but the latter, in company with Todd, had no success, losing all three sets.

RESULTS.

The results in brief were:

“B” Division

BRITON GUILTY OF CHARGE

SHANGHAI JURY'S FINDING

Shanghai, May 30.
Leonard Wedderburn, a British subject, charged with breaking and entering, was found guilty by a jury of five and sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The jury, in its verdict, added: "But in our opinion, in the absence of any real motive, we think the prisoner was momentarily unbalanced."

At the expiration of Wedderburn's prison sentence, he will enter recognizance of $200 to keep the peace and be of good behaviour for the period of a year.

Wedderburn, wearing bandages and a scarf to hide the self-inflicted wound in his throat, sat pale and distraught throughout the hearing. He gashed himself while awaiting trial.

Strange Story.

The prisoner was charged with entering the home of Mr. W. R. Davis at about 5.30 a.m. on Saturday, April 22. It was alleged that he knocked at the door of the house and when it was opened by a cooie he attacked the man, striking him on the head.

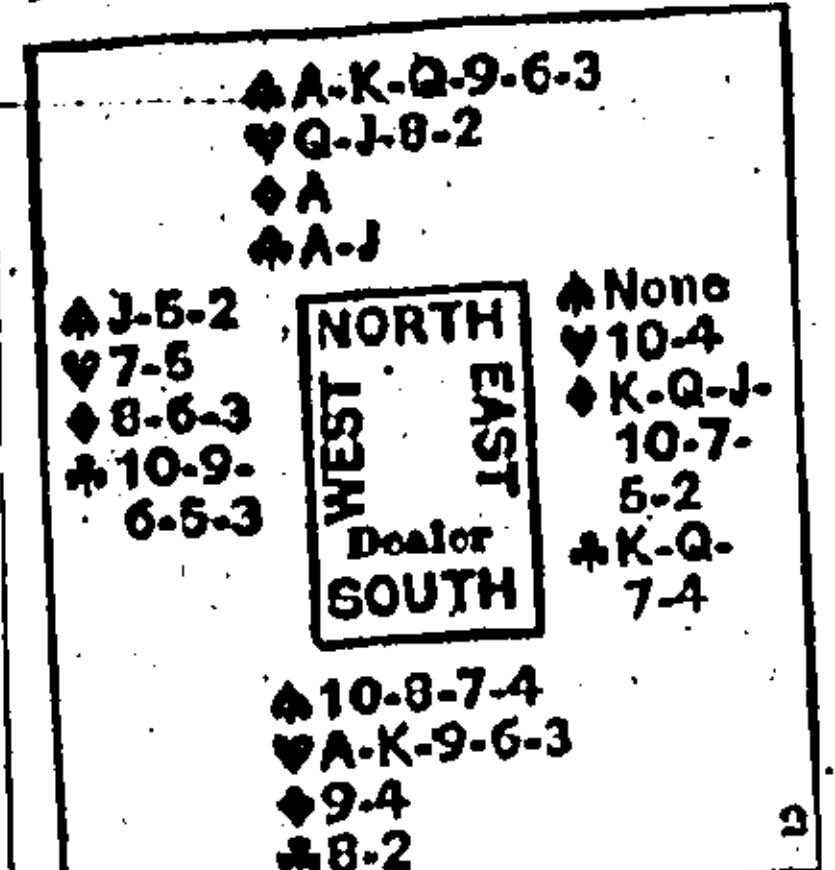

Accused is said to have gone to Mr. Davis' bedroom, pointed a loaded revolver at him and demanded that he sign a certain paper. He threatened to shoot everyone in the house unless his demand was complied with. Later, Mr. Davis succeeded in getting the revolver away from him, and summoned the police after his departure.—Reuters.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

While it is true that it is permissible to make weak opening third-hand bids in the constructive one over one system, it does not mean that you are not allowed to hold cards simply because you have a third-hand bid.

If you make a weak third-hand opening bid, remember that you must never rebid the hand under any circumstances. If you enter the bidding again you are telling your partner that you have a real hand. Take for example the following hand:

The Bidding

South, the dealer, passed. West passed, and North bid one spade. East overcalled with two diamonds and South bid two hearts. North took the bidding to six

Have You a Baby?

Then it is your duty to keep Baby's Own Tablets always available. And once you have tried them you will know the reason and you will heartily agree. Countless parents in all parts of the world gratefully admit that this splendid juvenile health-safeguard has brought them untold happiness and relief from anxiety. Children everywhere have been brought safely through the difficult early years by the aid of Baby's Own Tablets.

This splendid corrective offers both protection and relief. The formula is that of a medical practitioner of specially wide experience in children's ailments. It is a safe and effective remedy for constipation, infantile indigestion, stomach and bowel troubles generally.

During the teething period Baby's Own Tablets are a boon, easing the pains rapidly and thus enabling baby to sleep. Guaranteed to be free from narcotic, opiate or other harmful drugs, Baby's Own Tablets are safe for the youngest or most delicate infant, and an invaluable health-safeguard for children up to the age of seven or eight.

All reputable chemists supply them.

South now showed spade support with a bid of six spades. This allowed North to bid seven spades as he had now found a home for his losing club.

South is definitely marked with the ace of hearts due to the fact that when West overcalled with two diamonds South need not have made any bid—he could have passed. Therefore his overcall was a constructive bid and could not have been made, considering all the tickets North held, unless South had the ace of hearts.

Seven hearts cannot be made because West would open a spade which East would ruff.

LOVE OR MONEY?

to hand over some of your gold. Ask him how it can be done—"

"He won't tell me if he knows—and I don't think he does," Mona argued.

"Little came a step nearer. 'Barry will never let you get that far,' she went on. 'When you tell him you love him he'll either stop you and say everything is o.k. or else he'll leave you sitting right where you are! I think to-morrow at tea time would be a good time—'

"I see you have it all planned," Mona said acidly. Then her manner changed. She took Lottie by the shoulders. "You are a darling, Lottie! You are!"

"Anyhow I mean well," mimicked Lottie, her face close to Mona's own.

They both laughed. "I doubt it," Mona added, kissing her. "I never will trust blondes—or brunettes either. Only I can't do all that, Lottie. If Barry doesn't speak to me soon it's all over. We'll go back home and think of something else to do but I can't speak to Barry about—"

"I understand," Lottie agreed soberly. "Well, good night. Go to sleep!"

"Oh, I'll sleep," Mona promised.

But she did not. Long after Lottie ceased moving about in the next room, long after lights had ceased to shine through the lattice work at the top of the door leading into the hallway and silence settled over the entire household Mona lay wide eyed and heart sick.

She sat up in her huge bed, intent on the amazing stillness of the tropic night. The fragrance of honeysuckle and jasmine floated through the wide windows which enclosed the stars. The fringe of trees beyond were carved in jade, bathed in white moonlight.

Mona arose and, walking to the window, drew in great breaths of the sweetened air. Far below, the beach lay white in the moonlight. The sea murmured. She could hear the waves roll in, hesitate, churn, then spill into whispering foam.

She could hear the tide drag the last wave back, gather, roll in again. Otherwise the night was so still that she could hear the beating of her own heart.

"I believe I'll go down there for a walk," Mona decided presently. "Perhaps I can think there a little more easily. Perhaps I'll be able to make up my mind what to do." She paused uncertainly. "There is, of course, only one thing to do—and that is go home!"

Swiftly and quietly she tossed off her pajamas, dressed in a white skirt, soft yellow sweater and rubber soled shoes. She knew it would be cool on the beach.

The door opened gently and the stairs, fortunately, made no sound beneath her feet. She crept across the wide hall to the door which each night she had learned was left wide open. There were no prowlers to fear on Holiday!

Beneath the stars on the terrace Mona stood for an instant, considering the stillness which held the house in its grip. Then she looked seaward. Far away toward the Granadines a necklace of yellow lights was flung out on the water. The portlights of the motor boat bobbed in the harbour.

As she moved down the pathway the flamboyant trees flicked her face gently with their fragrance. It did not occur to Mona to be afraid. She gained the sand. Ah, here she could really think! Was it safe to lie on the sand at night or any other time? Of course it was safe! Why not? Anyhow, it was delightful. Mona stretched her slender length along the shelf of rock where the shadows played, her hands beneath her head. This was comfort. This was peace.

Silence and still more silence. All of a sudden Mona felt rather than heard a sound. Someone was near her! She sat upright, tense and alert. It had been foolish to come. Foolhardy and silly beyond words. Who was making that sound? A bird perhaps, or the wind?

A shadow separated itself suddenly from a clump of trees and moved toward her. The girl started to scream and found she could not.

SEQUEL TO SHOTS AT AN EDITOR

CHINESE COMMITTED TO THE SESSIONS

On the charge of shooting, with intent to murder Mr. Lo Weikeung, editor of the Tin Nam Daily News, in Lyndhurst Terrace, on the night of April 18, Chan Hi, alias Tin Kai-hi, a Western Market stall fok, was committed for trial by
Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central
Police Court yesterday afternoon.

The defence, which has been in the hands of Mr. M. K. Lo, for whom Mr. Horace Lo deputised yesterday, was reserved.

Mr. V. C. Branson, Government
Analyst, in evidence said that on April 18 accused was brought to the laboratory with his left hand covered with a handkerchief. He examined the hand and found a stain on the ball of the left thumb and palm. He washed it first with petroleum ether and then with distilled water, after which he rubbed it with other solvents on cotton wool pads. The stain was scrapped by a sharp scraper which cut the skin. The petroleum ether contained a slight trace of grease which glowed under the ultra-violet lamp. It might have been a mineral oil but it was certainly different in colour to human perspiration. The second test revealed sodium, potassium and chloride, sulphate, nitrate and a trace of iron.

The scraping contained metallic lead and a trace of iron.

Test On Revolver Range.

Replying to Mr. Fraser, Mr.
Branson said he would not expect to find nitrate on an ordinary

CORSICAN BANDITS.

FRENCH POLICE ROUND-UP NOTORIOUS CHIEFTAIN

Ajaccio, Corsica, May 30.
The notorious bandit chief,
Andre Spada, long-wanted by the French police, was arrested to-day in his hiding place near a hamlet named Coggia.

The desperate deeds of Spada and his associates provoked a French expedition to exterminate banditry in Corsica last year.

In the course of the expedition a number of Spada's fellow bandits were killed and many more rounded up but Spada himself seemed to bear a charmed life. Time and again he evaded his pursuers at the moment when capture seemed certain. —Reuter Special.

human hand, and it was not a normal constituent of perspiration, so far as he knew.

On May 1, three cotton wool
swabs were brought to witness, who examined them under the same process as the hand. The petroleum ether residue contained a very small amount of grease, while the second solution gave more iron.

On May 6, in company with
Sub-Inspector Chester-Woods,
Police Armourer Sergeant Scott, accused's solicitor and accused,
witness went to the Kennedy Road revolver range. Sergeant Scott fired the revolver with his left hand in a glove. Witness examined the glove, and found a lot of lead. He examined the revolver, and found a large quantity of mineral oil.

After further evidence, the accused was committed for trial at the next Criminal Sessions.

Dairen, May 31.

The expected release to-day of the kidnapped officers of the of the Nanchang failed to materialise, owing to another gang joining up with the bandits at present holding the captives, thus complicating the negotiations for their release.

ROCK CRASHES INTO DRESSING ROOM

Accident at Yacht Club; Contractor Fined

Tang Shui-kwong, a building contractor, was summoned before Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning, for neglecting to take sufficient precautions when blasting at the New Shaikwan Road, North Point.

The Sub-Inspector stated that about 4.30 p.m. on May 11, accused carried out blasting operations at the West end of the road near the A.P.C. installation.

During one particularly large blast, two pieces of rock flew over the houses, over Shaikwan Road, and crashed through the India dressing room in the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club. Luckily, there was no body in the room at the time.

The piece of rock flew over 150 yards. The following day defendants repaired the damage. This was the second occasion this month that defendant's firm had been summoned for dangerous blasting. It was a most serious matter. He found that no precautions had been taken when he went to visit the scene later.

Mr. Schofield imposed a fine of $300.

CONFERENCE AT TANGKU

ADJOURNS UNTIL THIS AFTERNOON

Peking, May 31.
According to Chinese reports both Mr. Okamura and Mr. Kato are now in Tangku, but the latter is not expected to stay in long as Mr. Okamura is chief Japanese delegate to the Peace Conference.

The Chinese Press states that the special train bearing the Chinese delegates arrived at Tangku yesterday afternoon, and soon afterwards the delegates of both sides met informally and will continue discussion to-day.

The formal conference is opening on June 1.—Reuter.

ETZDORF CRASH SENSATION

DEATH DUE TO SUICIDE

London, May 31.

The somewhat mysterious circumstances surrounding the death of Fraulein von Etzdorf, the noted German airwoman, have now been cleared up, according to a report from Aleppo.

It stated that the circumstances point to suicide, the official medical report leaving little doubt about it.

The original report stated that after her crash landing, Miss von Etzdorf was suffocated safely, but died later. A further report, stating that to all appearances she suffered no injury in the crash, led to some mystification.

It is now revealed that the authorities were keeping something back.

TWO SHOTS THROUGH HEAD.

Apparently, Miss von Etzdorf was able to climb out of the machine with little assistance, though she may have been suffering from shock. She was taken to the aviators' room, where every attention was given her.

Later, she retired to the room, alone, at her own request. Suddenly shots rang out and she was found dead on the bed with the gun which she carried during the journey beside her and two bullets through the head.

No statement was left by the airwoman and no motive for the suicide is known.—Reuter.

BRITISH DEBT TO AMERICA

SITUATION NOT YET CLEAR

London, May 30.

In the House of Commons, Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, said he was not able, at present, to say whether he would be able to make any statement on the American debt situation before the Whitehall adjournment, next Friday.

Answering a further question, he said the amounts due in sterling to America in the present financial year, at the present rate of 3.98 1/2 dollars to the pound, were £19,059,000 on 15th June and £29,528,000 on December 15th or approximately £48,080,000.—British Wireless.

STEAMPIPE BURSTS

FIVE WORKMEN SUFFER INJURIES

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE PERIL

Five coolies were injured, two seriously, when a steampipe at the A.P.C. installation at Whitfield (North Point) burst in the midst of a gang of workmen during unloading operations from a tanker.

The incident occurred shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon. A tanker was discharging oil alongside the jetty, and steam, it is understood, for pumping operations was being forced through a long pipe from the boiler house on the other side of Whitfield Road.

When the pipe burst at a point near the ship end, there was a violent escape of steam. The broken end seems to have oscillated from side to side, and a number of workmen were struck and injured, whilst others were badly scalded.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION.

Two workmen were in a serious condition, their left legs broken, when admitted to hospital, they being Tam Sing, 27, and Lee Cheuk, 33, both living at Whitfield.

One of the unfortunate men has since been operated upon and his injured leg amputated, but it is feared that the injuries received by both men may prove fatal.

Three other workmen were also admitted to hospital but were subsequently discharged as minor cases.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE.

A situation of emergency was again created shortly after one o'clock this morning, when an outbreak of fire was discovered in the boiler house at the installation.

The boiler house is within a stone's throw of the group of oil tanks on the south side of Whitfield Road, and the acute danger arising from the close proximity of possibly several thousands tons of fuel oil to the outbreak was fully realised and countered with all possible means and promptitude.

ESCAPING OIL?

While the installation staff who have their own fire-lighting system drilled to meet emergencies, did what they could, a call was sent to Fire Brigade Headquarters, and within less than a quarter of an hour all available firefighting equipment on the island was assembled on the spot. The full resources of the Fire Department were brought to bear on the outbreak, which is believed to have been caused by escaping oil from a pipe becoming ignited through some cause or other.

POLICE ON SPOT.

The prompt attention localised the outbreak, and it was never allowed to attain any really serious extent. But it was an anxious time for everybody concerned while it lasted. The Emergency Unit had to be called out to reinforce the Police from the Bay View Station which adjoins the installation.

Not until after an hour's work was the danger considered over, and the firemen withdrew.

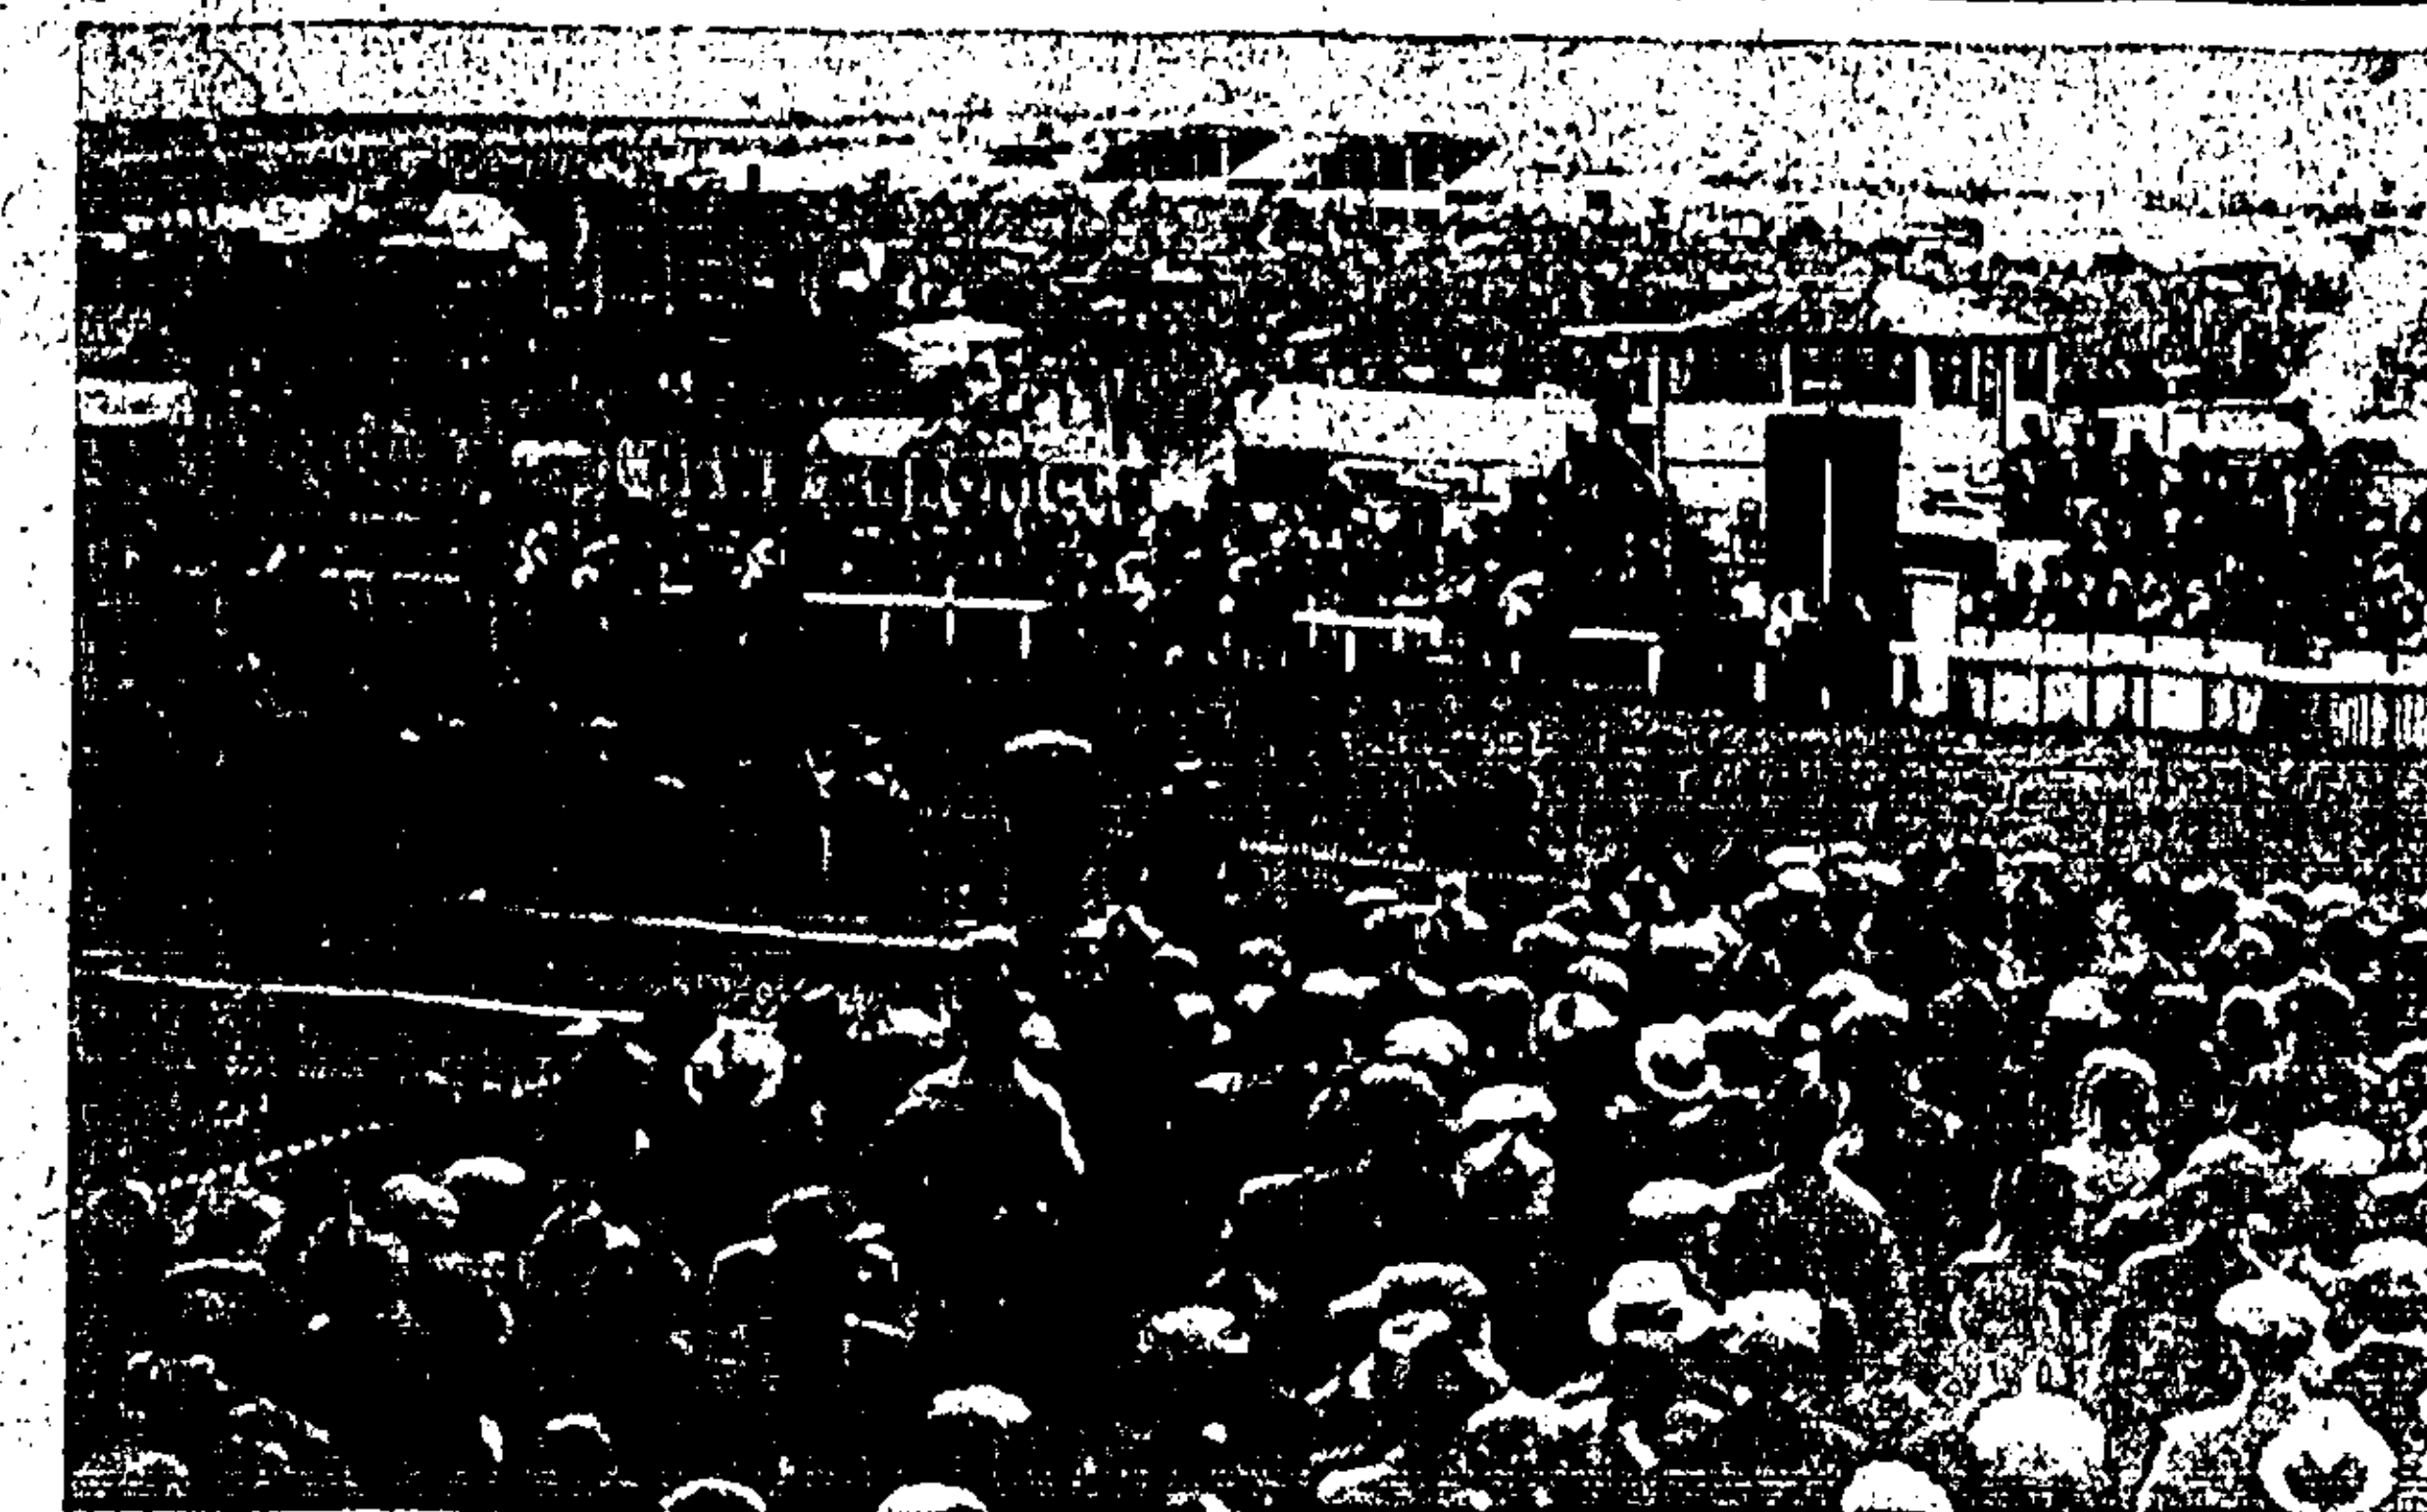

The extent of the damage is not disclosed. It is remarkable that two serious incidents should have occurred within relatively speaking, quick succession of each other.

MANITOBA FOR THE DERBY

FIRM FAVOURITE ALTHOUGH RACE IS VERY OPEN

TOM WALLS'S TIP (SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH").

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, May 31, 8.25 a.m.)

LONDON, MAY 31.

KEENER INTEREST IS BEING TAKEN IN THIS YEAR'S DERBY CLASSIC, TO BE RUN AT EPSOM TO-DAY, THAN FOR SOME TIME PAST.

Seldom has the race been regarded as more open than it is this year, although Manitoba has become a firm favourite and is likely to retain the position until the end of the market.

Manitoba's position is, however, very likely due to the fact that Gordon Richards will be up on him. Even so, sound backers are not so sure. The feeling among punters is illustrated by the course of betting which has provided five different favourites in the last few weeks.

Tom Walls, the film star, who freely predicted the success of his horse April Fifth last year, says: "My bet will be Manitoba to win, Hyperion and Scarlet Tiger each way."

Manitoba is certainly in grand shape. She ran very attractively during a six furlongs exercise on the Downs yesterday morning.

Unless the weather turns out to be unfavourable which is not anticipated, Their Majesties the King and Queen, the Prince of Wales, and other members of the Royal Family will travel to Epsom to witness the race.

The absence of any heavy rainfall recently has increased Manitoba's chances in the estimation of many. The going is expected to be hard, which, it is thought in well-informed circles, will injure the prospects of Manitoba's opponents rather than that of the favourite.—Reuter Special Copyright.

PEACE FOR TEN YEARS

THE FOUR-POWER PACT STIPULATIONS

ARMS EQUALITY AGREEMENT

Rome, May 30.

It is reliably learned that the Four-Power Pact will shortly be submitted for signature.

It is likely to stipulate a formal agreement between the signatories to maintain peace for a period of ten years and to settle economic questions.

The Pact refers to Articles Ten, Sixteen and Nineteen of the League Covenant, and recognises parity rights in disarmament, but it is understood, the application of parity is suspended for an agreed period.—Reuter.

AMERICA'S OFFER.

London, May 30.

During the discussion of the question of the Pact of Non-Aggression which occupied most of to-day in the General Commission of the Disarmament Conference, the American delegate, Mr. Norman Davis, speaking in accordance with President Roosevelt's message, declared that if the Conference wished to see a substantial measure of disarmament, the United States would be adverse to the conclusion of a universal pact forbidding resort to force.

The British delegate Captain Anthony Eden, emphasised the importance of this declaration, and added that the question could be further discussed on the second reading.

AIR PROBLEM.

The Minister for Air, Lord Londonderry, left London for Geneva by air this afternoon.

He will take part in the resumed discussion of the air disarmament proposals in the General Commission of the Disarmament Conference. The Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, is, for the present, remaining in London to attend tomorrow's meeting of the Cabinet.—British Wireless.

THE WORLD OF WOMEN

FASHION NOTES

Importance of the New Wide Belt

Belts are becoming very important, and are getting far away from the strip of fabric or leather that they used to be. Sometimes they are very wide in the back and run to practically nothing in the front; sometimes they are wide in front, and twisted together in the rear. Belts are shown studded with three rows of shiny nailheads, and sometimes they are made, wide in front, of ridged patent leather.

Then there are belts consisting of braided strands of beads in turquoise or coral. Gold bolts of mesh or military braid, from one to two inches wide, are a smart set-off to a black dress or any other dark dress. Gold bolts are seen on evening dresses, particularly pastel coloured ones, but with a dead white evening dress a bright red belt is preferred.

Belts in braided, multi-coloured varnished cords look smart, and so do those of military gold galloon.

Sash bolts are found in many houses, and coloured sashes—important ones with enormous bows and ends—hung to the hems of both afternoon and evening dresses.

The new printed silks simply dazzle the spectators with a fresh, new charm, gay, giddy little prints that will not spread on all over the fashion horizon—just the right kind of prints for a fastidious woman in search of something very different and distinctive. And they have arrived in generous profusion, prints for colourful daytime dresses, and dashing prints for summer dancing parties, and, of course, all the new prints for smart contrasting blouses, so necessary for slim, fashionable suits. Flashy, flamboyant, flowered designs have disappeared, we hope, for ever.

BEAUTIFUL LACE

Featured in Diagonal Lines and Squares

(From A Paris Correspondent)

The influence of modern fashion has made itself felt among the lace manufacturers more than any other trade. The new lace materials are being used by all leading dressmakers for jumpers, bodices to cloth dresses, and for sports ensembles, while woolsen lace is one of the most popular materials for evening gowns.

These new lace materials feature straight and diagonal lines, or squares, and lines giving the impression of length to dresses, which is the aim of all designers at the present moment.

Silk lace is eminently a luxury article, I was told by the head of a well known dressmaking establishment in Paris. In order to help the dressmakers reduce their prices, cotton and woolen laces are being carried out in the same lovely designs as those used for the silks.

Shiny materials are out of favour at the moment, and dull surfaces are being sought by the lace firms, just as much as by the textile manufacturers. A lace peau d'ange is a novelty, and is especially interesting on account of its being double-faced. A certain amount of popularity is also given to an imitation of Irish lace, which is very effective as a blouse, or as sleeves. Finer examples of imitations of Valenciennes or other laces are used as trimmings on dark dresses, while hats and shoes are decorated with dainty ruchings of the narrower kinds. There are also amusing little necklaces, in which soft lace and tiny beads combine to give a charming effect.

LINEN FOR COMFORT

Linen Suits Will Be Co-educational This Summer

Linen suits are co-educational this year—both the boys and the girls about town will be wearing them.

For the man, there's a trig double-breasted model in white linen that takes and holds its press perfectly. It has the notched lapels men like and is both cool and handsome.

The girl's suit is the new tweed linen, in natural colour, made with box-pleating in the skirt and a short, swagger jacket. With it a blue linen blouse is hand-made and has some handsome novelty stitching in natural-coloured thread.

STAINING A FLOOR

A Good Brush & Clean Floor Essential

The actual application of the chosen stain to the clean, dry, freshly-swept floor is the easiest part of the process of staining.

A good brush should be used. A good brush is economical, for it can be washed in soap and water afterwards and put away for further use. Sufficient stain to cover the whole floor should be ready. As applied by most people, a gallon of stain covers with a single coat from 350-400 square feet of floor. Hard woods do not need as much as this, but soft, unconditioned woods may need more.

Apply the stain always in the same direction as the grain of the wood, and take care not to let the edge of one patch dry before the next patch is stained, or unevenness of tint may result. This point is one that must be specially watched for, when using a quick-drying spirit stain.

Finally, when the whole floor has been covered, allow plenty of time for drying. The longer this can go on, the better will it be for the ultimate appearance of the floor.

In conclusion, a word must be said about water stains. These are very cheap and fairly satisfactory, but they do not have any value in preserving the floor, or "feeding" the wood. They are very simply made at home.

One popular water stain is made by dissolving an ounce or two of potassium permanganate crystals in a pint of water, and it is applied

SAVOURY BALLS

An Unusual Addition for the Soup

These are very nice, and also economical when a young family is being provided for. Added to the usual soup, after they are well boiled the children will like them.

Mix together ½ lb. flour, 4 ounces of chopped suet, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a little chopped parsley, a seasoning of salt and pepper, and a little finely minced onion.

Add water to make a stiff dough, form into balls, roll each in flour, and put them into boiling water.

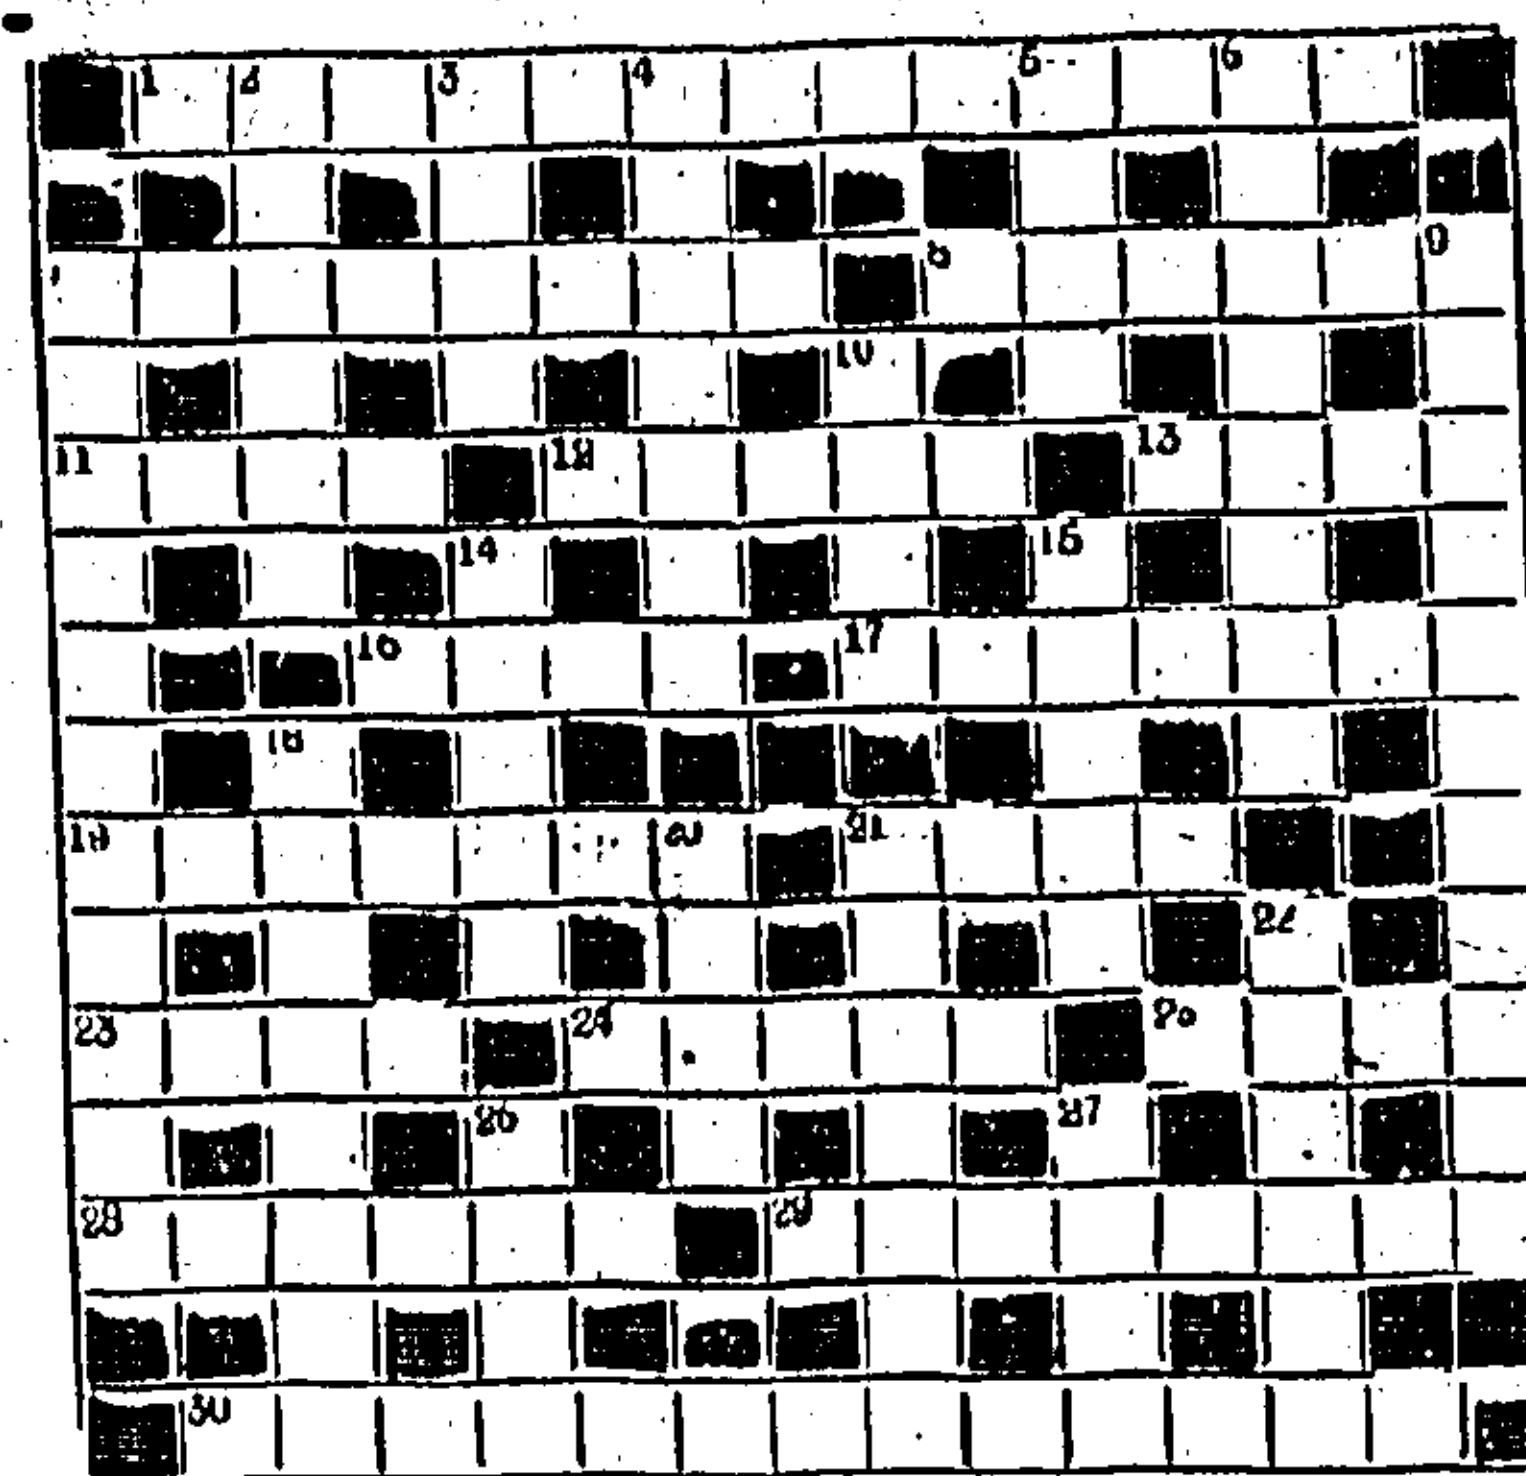

Cook for an hour, and at the time of serving the soup, drop them into it.

PARSLEY—SPRING TOUCH

It is a good idea always to keep a bowl of chopped parsley on the kitchen table when you are preparing a spring meal. Almost everything you serve can be garnished with the bright green leaves and they go far toward toning up languid appetites.

to the floor with a cloth, mop, or old sponge. This stain is apt to prove fugitive, and the following will be found better:—Dissolve 6 ounces of Vandyke brown crystals in two pints of boiling water. This is a dark brown stain. If one ounce of sodium bichromate or potassium bichromate be added also, an extremely dark stain is produced.

LOVE or MONEY?

BY H. W. CORLEY

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY

MONA TOWNSEND, beautiful young widow, inherits her husband's millions with the provision that she must not rewed. Her marriage, arranged by her husband's lawyer, who was Mona's employer, was a strange affair, leaving her free at the end of a year to become her husband's wife in actuality or secure a divorce. Mona, in love with her husband's nephew, BARRY TOWNSEND, agreed to the marriage when she thought Barry was lost to her.

She employs LOTTIE CARL, a fashion model, as her secretary companion and they set out for South America, where Barry and STEVE SACCARIELLO, are partners in a diamond mine. Mona hopes for a reconciliation with Barry. She also feels Barry is entitled to a share of his uncle's fortune and wants to find a way to arrange this legally.

Learning that Barry and Steve are on vacation at Holiday Island, the girls leave their boat at Port of Spain. There they meet Bud who takes them to Holiday Island. Barry and Steve are cordial but their greeting lacks warmth. Mona wishes she had not come. Barry does not ask for explanations and she cannot make them.

MISS GRACE, middle-aged spinster, comes from Port of Spain to serve as chaperone. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIII

For all Lottie's artful planning,

dinner at Holiday House that evening was singularly unromantic. There were no lovely gowns and there was no lingering over a candle-lit table, no strolling in the moonlight. It proved to be the first evening since the girls' arrival that no one dressed for dinner.

Their departure from Grenada was delayed, the carpenters taking a great deal of time to decide finally that they could not begin work on the hangar for at least a week. The motor boat left the harbour two hours later than they had planned. Sam, the native boy, was at the wheel while Barry and Steve spent most of the trip in rather disgruntled discussion.

When they arrived at the house they found the table on the verandah still set for dinner, the flowers drooping under the electric light and fireflies gathering on the terrace. The food in the kitchen had long since cooled and lost its savouriness.

"I sent the maids home for the night," Miss Grace said, unperturbed. "There seemed to be no knowing when you'd come. I thought you might have dined at Grenada."

"Well, we can't hire those carpenters here for a week yet," Steve announced. "I was going to buy this girl a pair of monkeys to take back to New York."

Back to New York! Mona felt her heart throb sharply, her cheeks suddenly grow cold. Steve and Barry were thinking then of their departure!

"Don't buy those monkeys yet a while," Barry said hastily and Mona sighed, reassured. "We're not going to let Mona and Lottie get away for a long time. They haven't seen half the sights yet."

"Well, they've seen what many a girl in Port of Spain would give her eye teeth to see anyhow," Miss Grace interposed comfortably.

"What's that, Miss Grace?" The older woman's fat face crinkled in a smile and her kind eyes were hidden for a moment.

"This house," she nodded vehemently. "Barry and Steve are popular young men, you know. When they come to our house—"

"Did you ever know a girl named Celeste?" asked Mona idly.

Barry and Steve glanced at each other and burst out laughing.

"Let Lottie tell you that one, Barry. I can't do it justice."

They listened to Lottie's diverting version of the affair on the boat but when she related the gift of Barry's portrait to Celeste the men became instantly sober.

"Great heavens, that practically constitutes an engagement!" Steve exclaimed.

"But she was honest, anyhow. She insisted Barry hadn't paid much attention to her," retorted Lottie.

Steve rose. "Yes, that's honest, only a little too mild. You might as well say a man pays no attention to a mosquito buzzing around him 24 hours of the day."

"I think I'll say good night," Mona decided, rising. "I'm tired, hot and have a headache."

"Anyhow we had a fine trip," Lottie announced, as she rose to follow her friend. "Well, good night!"

As the two girls mounted the stairs Lottie said quietly, "At least Barry doesn't want us to hurry away!"

"Oh, I don't know!" Mona's voice was weary. "He could hardly have said less. Steve practically put us aboard the Miranda."

"He didn't mean it that way," maintained Lottie. "He really did promise to get me some monkeys and I told him to wait until we were ready to leave."

In her flowing negligee Mona stood before the mirror, brush in hand, her bronze hair floating over her shoulders. For a moment neither girl spoke. The brush plied evenly with long, deft strokes.

"She's a great one," was Lottie's thought. "Her heart is breaking but she doesn't forget the 40 strokes—or is it 50 or 100?"

It was, as a matter of fact, 150 that night. The brush was replaced in the dresser drawer. Mona moved from chair to closet hanging this away and smoothing out that, taking out fresh garments for the next day.

Seated on the bed, Lottie swung one foot reflectively and watched her.

"Maybe we'd better go soon, Lottie," Mona remarked presently in a low voice.

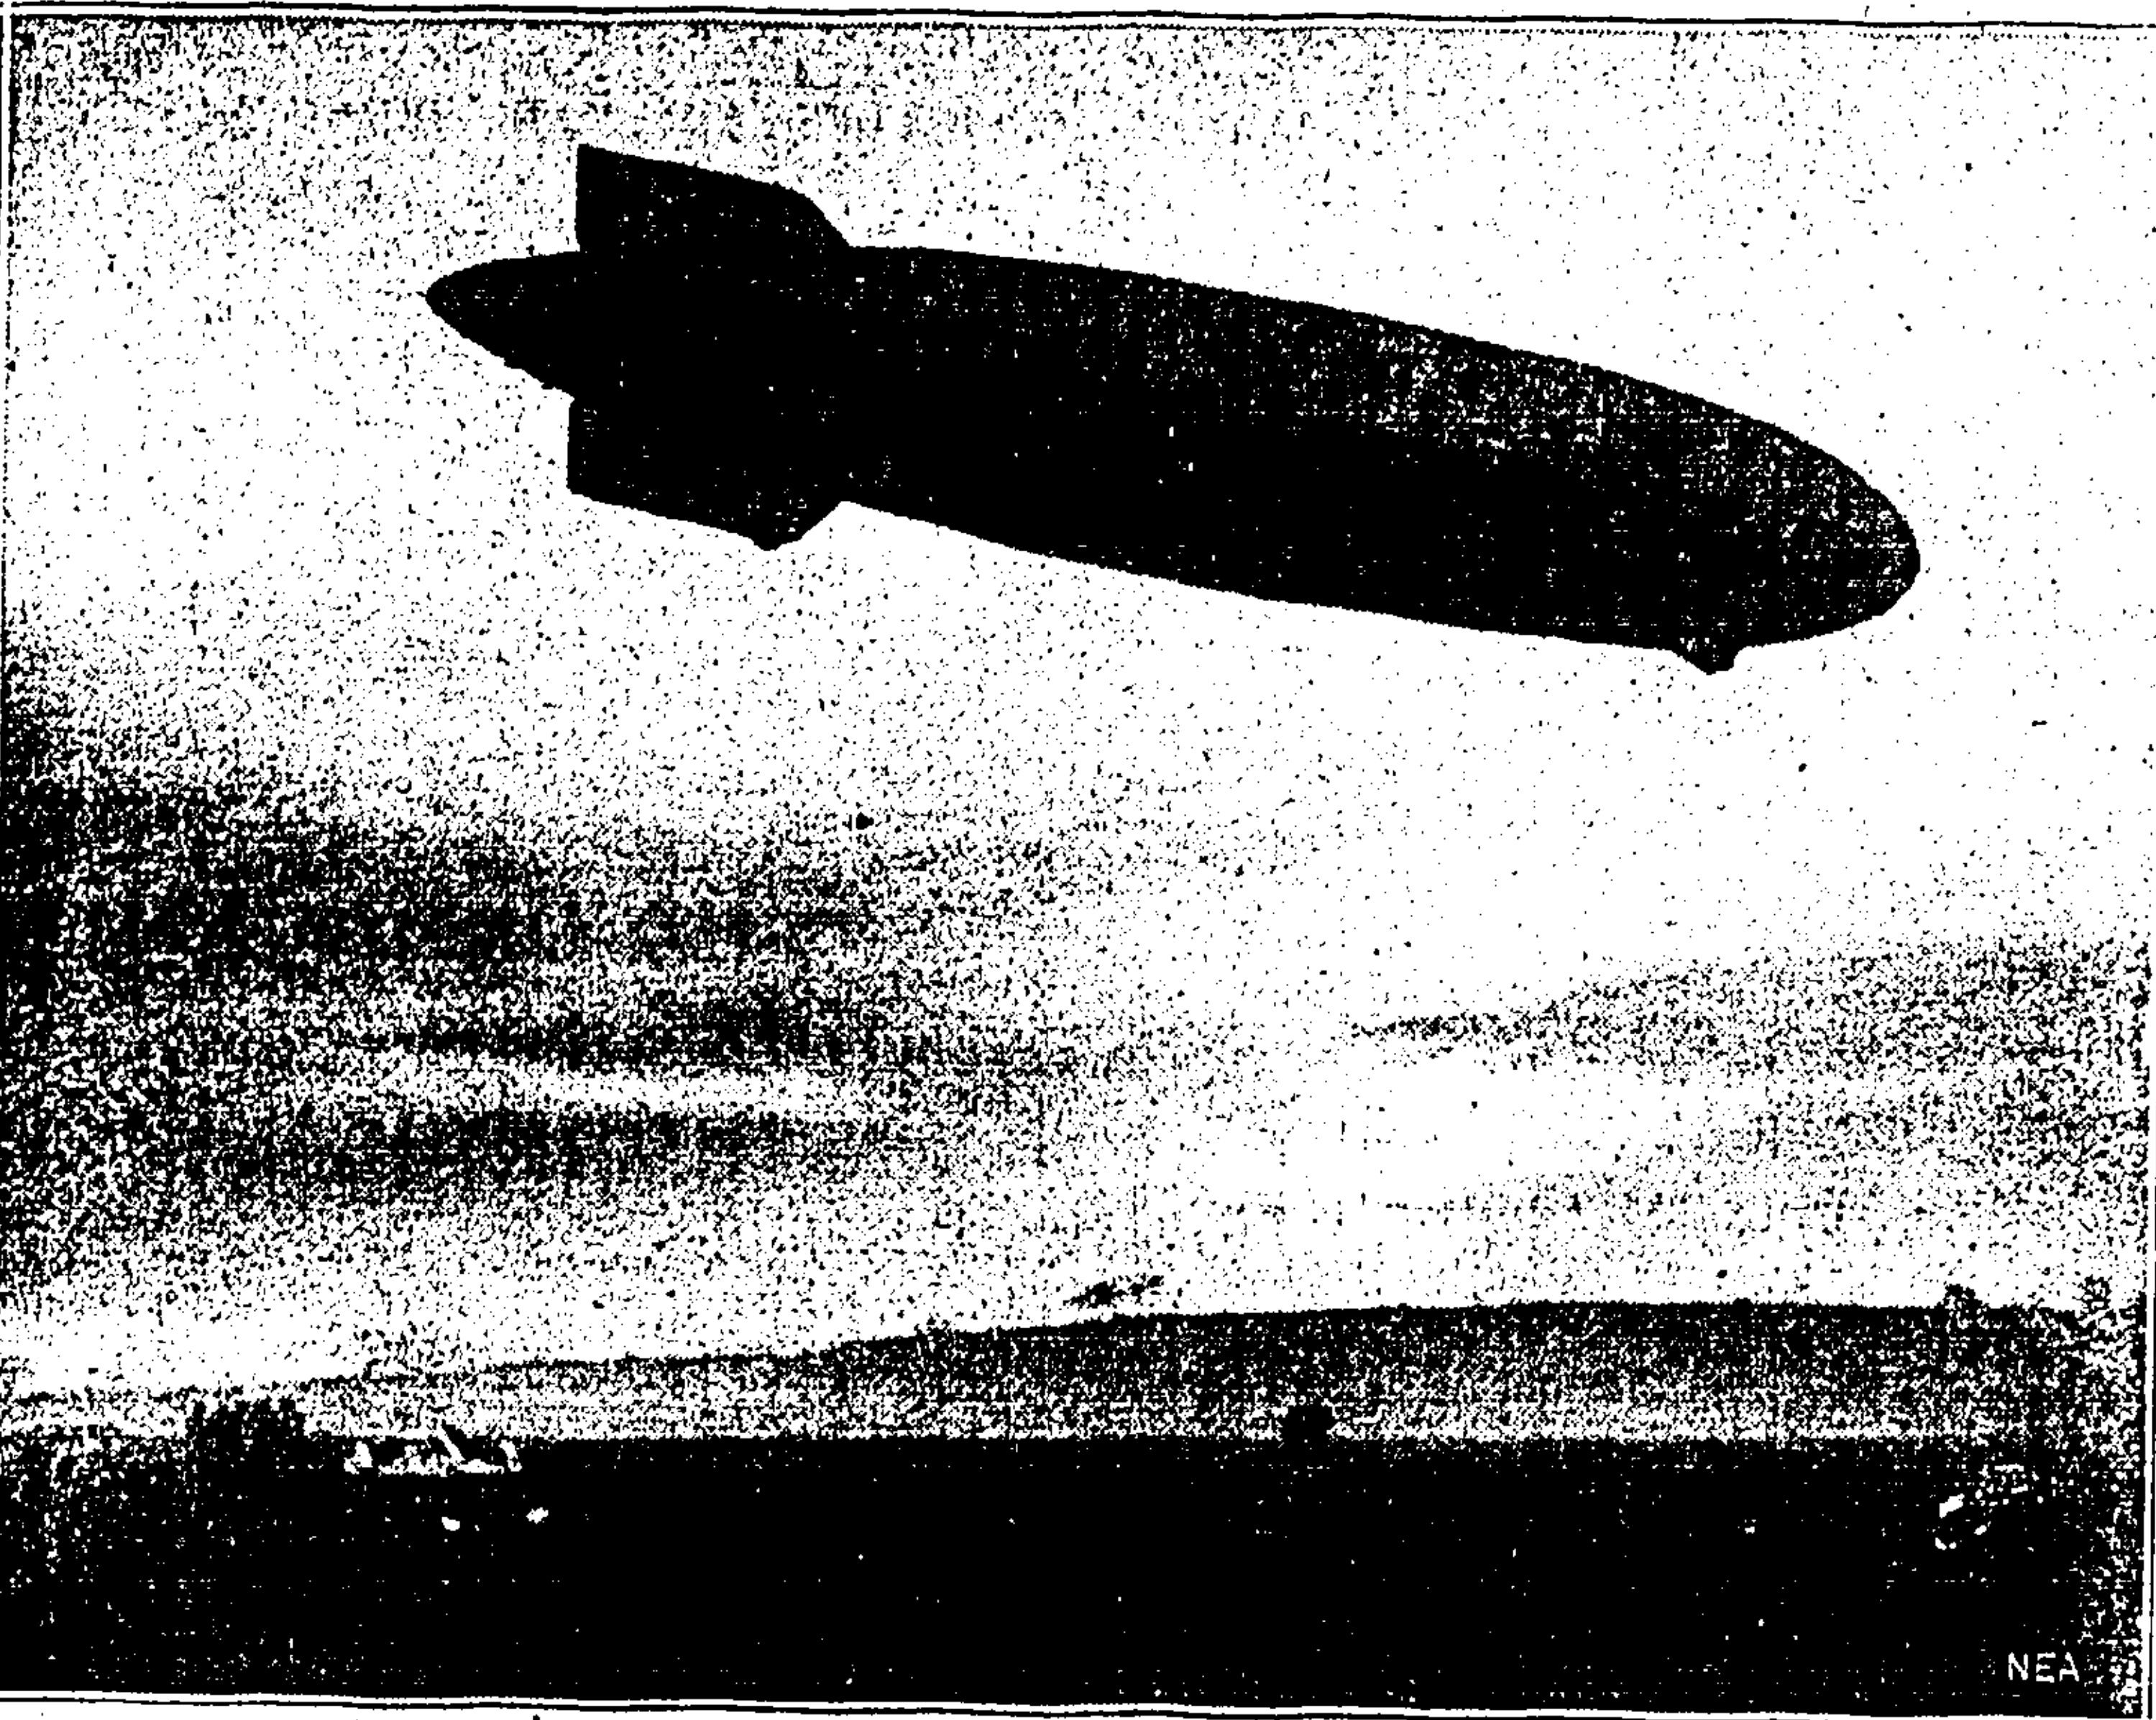

"Before you've talked about the will or anything to Barry?"

Mona spread both hands wide. "How can I? I might possibly say something to Steve but neither one—"

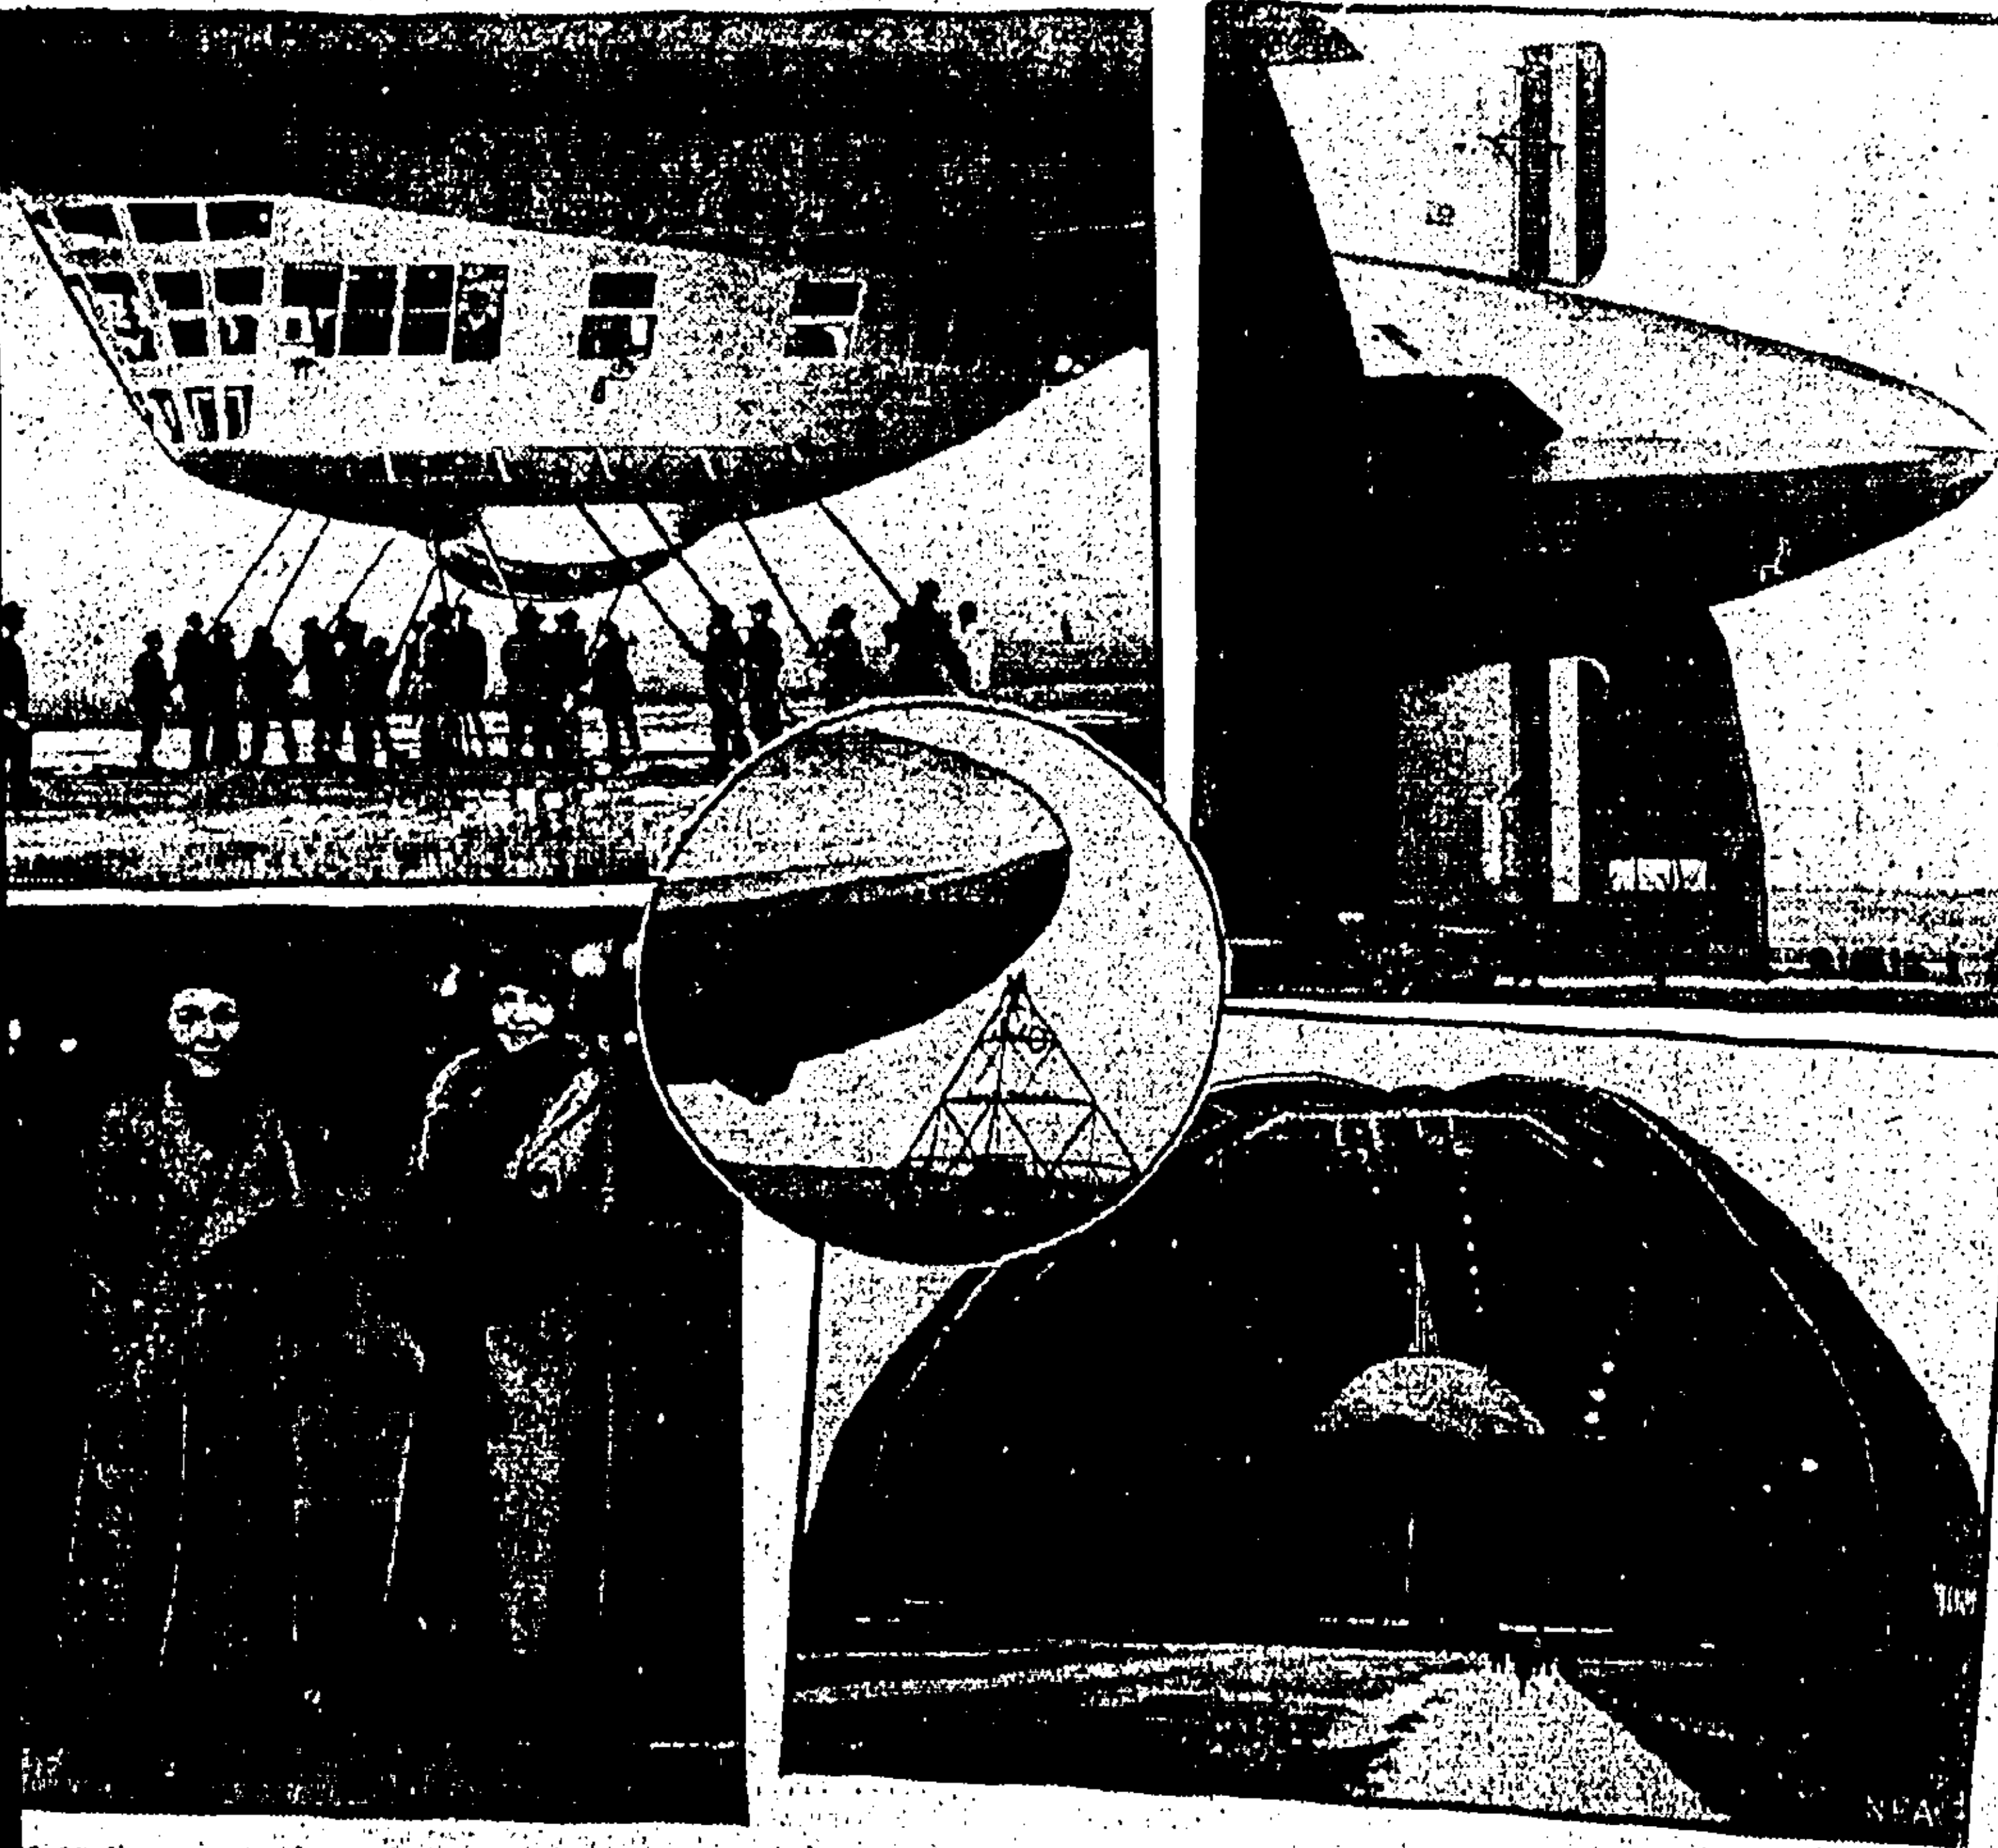

"Neither one has recognized your marriage," finished Lottie, rising. "Well, I'm ready to go if you say so, Mona, but my advice is to get into action! Listen, tomorrow, I'll corral Steve and take him some place. That will leave you and Barry alone so you can talk to him. Tell him why you came. Tell him you love him. You do, don't you? He can't do anything more than call you a forward hussy and after that you'll know where you stand! Tell him you're the fourth wealthiest woman in New York now and want

Into the dawn—the U. S. S. Macon heads into the gray mist of dawn as she begins her maiden voyage at Akron, O. This striking picture was taken a few moments after the Macon had cast away from her mooring mast and lifted away under power.

As the U. S. S. Macon, sister ship of the ill-starred Akron, made her maiden flight at Akron, O. Upper left, a closeup of control cabin under the ship's nose, with Commander A. H. Dressel at the window. Upper right, the huge stern of the ship as she cut out of the airdock. Lower left, Mrs. A. H. Dressel, wife of the commander, and her daughter, Margaret. Lower right, shown here as they were launched after the youth had been held captive in his airlock, a comparison of sizes. Center, the Macon at the start of her reign as Queen of the Air, at the moment when she cast away from her mooring mast.

Doing the thing he likes best—flying an airplane—Col. Charles F. Lindbergh displays this smile. This first closeup picture was made as the colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh arrived at Pittsburgh after a hazardous trip.

John "Jack the Barber" Factor, right, and his wife, Jerome, are shown here as they were launched after the youth had been held captive five days by kidnappers. Factor, internationally known stock speculator and promoter, did not reveal his name until

DEATH OF EX-ARMY OFFICERSMAJOR SIR PHILIP CRAWLEY

(Our Own Correspondent).

(By Telegraph. Copyright. Telegraphic Message Ordinance, 1911. Received May 31, 1.55 p.m.)

London, May 30. The death has occurred of Major Sir Philip Crawley, late of Lancashire Fusiliers and the Buffs, in his 64th year.

Colonel John Forster Manifold, late of the Royal Artillery, also died to-day in his 76th year.

He retired from the Army in 1907 having served in the South African War during which campaign he was mentioned in despatches, awarded the C.M.G. and the Queen's Medal with seven clasps.

USED A FALSE CHOPCHINESE BROKER SENT TO GAOL

Before Mr. Butters at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning, Wong Wai-tong was charged with obtaining money from two shops with a false chop purporting to be that of the Chung Wo Knitting Company.

Appearing for the complainants, Mr. P. T. K. Kemble alleged that defendant, who was connected with the Chung Wo Knitting Company as a broker, went to the Tung King shop in Shamshui and obtained $108.56 in October last. Later he went to another shop and secured $63, on both occasions using a chop which he claimed to be that of the complainant's.

Defendant pleaded guilty to both charges, but stated in mitigation that the complainants owed him certain commission.

Mr. Kemble said that on the contrary, he understood the defendant owed the firm money. Sentence was passed of two months on each charge to run consecutively.

BAD CHARACTERS ON A ROOFBOARDING HOUSE KEEPER FINED $50

Sub-Inspector Dredge summoned before Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistrate's Court this morning, Pun Chik-sam, the licensee of the Tai Lok Boarding house, 97, Connaught Road, Central, with having allowed persons of bad character on the premises. A fine of $50 was imposed.

The prosecuting officer stated that about 11.30 a.m. on May 12 he visited the premises, and inspected the rules. On the roof he saw a girl hiding behind a chimney with an amah.

When they were about to leave the premises, he saw another girl enter. She said she had come to visit a friend. She went upstairs, and then came down again. He questioned her, and she said she had come for an appointment. The defendant told him he did not know they were bad characters.

Mr. Schofield.—Walking up the stairs is not an immoral purpose. Sub-Inspector.—No. But her intention was immoral.

Mr. Schofield.—The defendant is not a mind reader, he did not know they had come there for an immoral purpose.

Fung Chuen, a returned banished, was sentenced to six months' hard labour by Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistrate's Court this morning. He was banished in March this year for a period of ten years, and was arrested in Wanchai.

EIGHTEEN NEW AEROPLANESEQUIPMENT FOR CHINA

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph. Copyright. Telegraphic Message Ordinance, 1911. Received May 31, 8.9 a.m.)

Shanghai, May 31.

The fulfilment of the three month's campaign for aeroplane funds by the Chinese National Aviation Association was announced by the Mayor of Greater Shanghai, Mr. Wu Te-chen last night.

The grand total realised is approximately $1,400,000 which is $500,000 short of the goal aimed for.

Orders for the purchase of eighteen planes have already been placed and the first of these machines will be officially christened to-morrow.

According to plans there will be a "Shanghai Merchants' Plane," a "Labourers' Plane," a "Women's Plane," and a "Children's Plane," etc., each named according to the contributions.—*Reuter.DOG GORED TO DEATH*ATTACKED BY 4 OTHER DOGS

How a dog was gored by four others and subsequently fell over a bridge and died at Shaikwan was told by Sergeant Shepherd before Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court this morning, when Mr. A. Vannini, General Manager of A. Vannini & Company, was summoned in respect of four dogs being without muzzles.

Sergeant Shepherd said that Mr. Vannini went out for a walk on the hillside at the back of Bremer Terrace. On returning his four dogs, two pointers, a poodle and a poodle bitch, set on a dog, owned by Mr. J. D. Kinaird. The dog was gored and died from its injuries. The fight was witnessed by Mr. Hall. The dog fell from a bridge at a height of about ten feet.

Defendant stated that he thought the muzzling restriction did not apply to that area.

The Magistrate pointed out that one of the main reasons for the muzzling order was to prevent dogs from biting each other. He imposed fines totalling $20.

For allowing two dogs abroad without muzzles and having no licence for one of them, Mr. C. Matsumoto, 407, Hennessy Road, was fined $13.

JAPANESE TRADE COMPETITIONQUESTIONS IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, May 30. Questions relating to textile and other goods produced by cheap labour in Japan were asked in the House of Commons to-day.

The President of Board of Trade, Mr. Walter Runciman said he was aware of the growing extent of Japanese competition and of the low level of wages ruling for industrial workers in Japan, and the whole question was under consideration.

Necessary steps were being taken to prevent unfair competition against British manufactures extending within the Empire.

Notice, as announced, had been given of the withdrawal of the West African Colonies from the Anglo-Japanese trade agreement so that they could be in the position to give preference to British goods.—*Bri-MUI TSAI WITHOUT WAGES*THREE YEARS ARREARS OWED BY MISTRESSChan Chuk-sang, widow, residing at No. 10, Stanley Street, was summoned before Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistrate's Court this morning, with having failed to pay wages to her registered mui tsai, Li Sui-king.

Defendant admitted not having paid the girl wages, but said that she had saved them for her, and produced the money in Court.

Sub-Inspector H. W. Fraser, of the S. C. A., said that on May 13 the defendant came with the girl to the S. C. A., and the girl asked for a cancellation of her status as mui tsai, saying that she was going to work as a domestic servant for her employer. As was usual, she was questioned about her wages, and she informed the S.C.A. that she had received no wages for four years. She said she would have to work four years to pay off the original money paid by the defendant for her, which was $145. Altogether three years and 20 days wages were due her, which amounted to $55. Addressing the defendant Mr. Schofield said that the sum she had collected must be paid in trust for the girl to the S.C.A., and fined the woman $20 for failing to pay.CATCHING BIRDS WITH STICK*DEAD DOVE PRODUCED IN COURT

A dead dove was produced before Mr. Wynne-Jones in Court this morning, when a market foki was charged with cruelty to birds in Kennedy Road.

Sub-Inspector Kirby said that yesterday afternoon an Indian constable saw the defendant up a tree. He had a big stick with which he was poking birds' nests. The injured dove was found on the road nearby, and it died, at the Police Station.

Amending the charge to one of taking game, the Magistrate imposed a fine of $10 or fourteen days, remarking—"If you want any doves in the future you better buy them in the market".

HOW TO MAKE A CUP OF TEACONTROVERSY IN ENGLAND

London. A storm is raging (almost literally) in the tea-cups of England. Protagonists of the various schools of thought on the subject are writing to the press to tell a thirsty world how to make a Perfect Cup of Tea.

The importance of this can be gauged only by realising that in the United Kingdom every day more than 100,000,000 cups of tea are drunk—enough altogether to float a tea-bringing ship from the Indies.

Here are the five golden rules for a good pot of tea according to a mere man:

Heat teapot with hot water and empty it.

A heaped teaspoon for each person and one for the pot.

It is essential that water which has just come to the boil should be used. Water that has been boiling for some time will never draw the tea properly.

Let the tea infuse from four to five minutes, and

See that the inside of your kettles is free from deposit.

THE OPIUM EVIL

The Government's decision to import a new brand of prepared opium to replace the Monopoly product discontinued when the local factory was closed down, suggested an important change viewed against the long and uneventful history of the Monopoly. Enquiries, however, show that it amounted to no more than a measure of economy, the wisdom of which is to be questioned. It appears that the substitute now being supplied from Singapore in pursuance of an arrangement with the Monopoly there, does not appeal to the "refined" smoker, and the smoker's preference is about to be, if not already, freely exercised by discrimination in favour of other brands. Of these, there are a variety: "foreign recognized" ones like "Red Lion," hitherto occupying a favour second only to Hongkong's, and others without benefit of official blessing, but nevertheless extensively consumed on account of their comparative cheapness. We may take into account the efforts of our Preventative Officers against these "competitive" brands, but it is a generally conceded fact that despite intensive campaigning against smuggling, illegal opium continues to make its way into the Colony. From all accounts indeed, it has been coming in in increasingly large quantities within recent weeks; and this is said to be mainly due to the introduction of the unpopular Singapore product which, while offered at the former high price, has not the former excellence to commend it. The position is one extremely favourable to smugglers, who are taking full advantage of the situation as demonstrated by recent seizures. Failing to secure the bulk of the illicit drug in transit, the authorities have fallen back to extensive raiding and closing of dives as the only known means of cutting off the demand, and in almost every case the depressing discovery has been made of "Red Lion," or one or several of other debased mixtures that generally manage to find their way into these out-of-the-way places. If Government policy (as has been declared) is to put down smoking by a gradual raising of prices, we fear a disappointment. There is, of course, some logic for the supposition that as the present generation of addicts disappear, opium smoking will have been made so prohibitive that it cannot be indulged in by the majority of the class now addicted to it, but this is an ideal pursued in disregard of ugly realities. We have contiguous to us a country where, despite assurances to the contrary, extensive poppy cultivation is carried on. When cultivation has been suppressed in one province, it is taken up in a more intensive form in another, so that for all practical purposes, the output and facilities for the masses remain the same. An allied problem is the absence of proper recreative pursuits for the lower classes, to whom an evening spent at an opium divan has about the same object and utility as an evening spent by others at a club. Addiction to the insidious drug is acquired with continued practice until the victim is so completely in its grip, he is not able to help himself. How many crimes in local Police records have been committed by victims driven to desperation by the great craving—crimes which they would not have thought of in their normal senses? But this is not to be cured by action tending to the use of poor quality opium and it is seriously suggested that Government policy is in danger of being defeated by the measure of false economy recently taken. We do not propose to deal with this matter further except to point to a possible broader scope for Government activity in the removal of some of the causes for the habit. This is only to be secured by education and propaganda in which the co-operation of Chinese members of the medical profession may well be enlisted. It is assumed that hitherto no known effective cure has been found, except in a few rare instances when the process has been long and laborious and has depended for its eventual success on the determination and self-control of the patient. The small percentage of success however should not discourage further efforts in the research for a 100 per cent. curative agent, and while that is being attempted, clinics, or more properly speaking, sanatoria for cases might be usefully established, not only for the purpose of assisting in research work but also offering some assurance for those in the early stages of addiction. Something will then have been attempted which will be far more useful than reliance only on price-increase or on the futile war against traffickers.

Our Prison Problem

Prisons filled to overflowing, and convicts turned away! What a subject for a Gilbert and Sullivan to exploit. Not even their delightful "Trial By Jury" commands such scope for a satirical libretto as Hongkong's prison "comedy". But it is a comedy of errors, not of wit. Behind it all lies a problem second only in importance to that of the annual water shortage. This situation of having twice as many prisoners as accommodation is not new. It has not risen overnight. For a very considerable time, the Government has been confronted with the urgent need of increased space. Prison officials have made significant observations from time to time. It has even affected the police, revenue officers and other officials concerned with preserving law and order in the Colony. They complain that it is little use making arrests and securing convictions. They "get their man" only to see him turned loose after serving but part of his sentence. Magistrates are overworked, daily sending offenders to gaol, only to see them evade justice through past shortsightedness. Quite apart from letting loose undesirables on the public, cognisance has to be taken of the deplorable conditions to which prisoners are subjected as a result of overcrowding. The position is an acute one, fraught with unhappy possibilities. More than once, have prison officials been faced with threatened revolt by inmates. For a long time all has not been well at Victoria gaol. Overcrowding merely aggravates the position. It is a problem requiring early attention or consequences of a serious nature may result.

OVER THE OPIUM PIPE AH LO DISCUSSES HIS PET PROBLEM

(By C. V.-L. for the Telegraph)

When I first met Ah Lo these many years now, he was in decidedly prosperous circumstances. You could tell that by the affable smile and nod he had for everybody, by the swish of his immaculate gown as he swept gracefully to your desk to take up with you the hundred-and-one matters connected with harbour transport. Stevedore, ship-chandler, coal merchant and junk contractor, there seemed to have been nothing connected with harbour transport that he did not know. There were times when his knowledge extended beyond his strictly business ken and he saw much that lay beneath the surface—the waterfront undercurrents not always perceptible to you or me.

Fortune changed with the times, and when I renewed his friendship the other night, it was obvious that in the interim he had had more than his fair share of business reverses, confessing to many disappointments in which I could easily sympathise. He had the sharp acumen and patient perseverance of the native businessman, and I predicted for him an early return to his former prosperity, for which he thanked me exceedingly and invited me to continue the talk over the opium pipe.

Now, his friends will concede there is nothing fundamentally wrong with Ah Lo, except for this weakness—if it could be so regarded—for the pipe that nooses. With the privilege of an old cronie, I had taken him to task for it on more than one occasion, but always he had grinned disarmingly, closed his ears to counsel irrespective of these being advanced on psychological or on pathological grounds, and steadfastly refused to believe there was anything immoral in the indulgence. He had seen the saigun get beautifully inebriated on high-powered liquors. His own preference as he put it, was the quiet and dignified ritual of the opium pipe. In times of prosperity (and he heaved a regretful sigh here) it had stimulated his outlook on life—was an incentive to further endeavours. In times of depression like the present, it was his solace, although because of present necessities circumstances, he agreed it was not to be indulged in to the former extent.

MY FRIEND IN A NEW LIGHT.

Full well I remember those moments of intimacy established over the opium pipe. Then his usually business-like but sometimes insouciant exterior dropped away like a mask, and the subconscious self that is the scholar and philosopher peeped out in many scintillating facets, refreshing and instructive to the beholder. No affair of public or national import could have taken place without it being brought within the capacity of his genius for the rhetoric, and a most learned dissertation on present-day trends in social and political outlooks would be liberally interspersed with Truths from the Classics of which, true scholar that he is, he has an ample stock.

Over the opium pipe that night we forsook the usual inquisition of Chiang Kai-shek and other military and political busybodies to inquire into the matter nearer home of opium, its quality, its prices. As can be easily imagined, the subject touched him deeply. A metallic tube from which he had just squeezed sufficient of the stuff to make a pill, arrested my attention, because it was so very different from the earthen or horn pots on which I had seen Hongkong Monopoly opium packed. More interesting was the information that it was opium now being imported by the Hongkong Government from Singapore following upon its recent decision to close down the local factory and dispense with the export services of the boiling staff.

WE SHARE A JUSTIFIABLE PRIDE.

My friend Ah Lo had always shared with our City Fathers a justifiable pride on the score of our turning out the best opium in the Far East, and he now deplored the step as cutting local smokers from a cherished supply. Ah Lo's reasons for his preference were not set out too clearly to a non-smoker, but it is safe deduction that his arguments covered much the same grounds as those relating to the respective qualities of different alcoholic vintage. Connoisseur in his own particular line, he is therefore to be trusted for the purpose of announcement that Singapore opium does not taste quite as nice as our former Monopoly brand. In short, it does not confer on Ah Lo and company, bon vivours, an equal satisfaction.

The revelation made me prick my ears up. Here is information, I thought, of a sort upon which his expert knowledge could be solicited. While he was busy with his pipe I had time to summon up the probabilities, and when he had finished his second (or was it his third?) smoke, inquired as to a possible reaction in a lowering of Government sales with a corresponding increase in smuggling of cheaper products.

His exposition of the new situation was not free from the intrusion of his scholastic make-up, but briefly it bears a close analogy to our saying that in the effort to save a few pennies, pounds were being thrown away. A few thousand dollars at the outset may have been retained by savings in factory salaries, but against this he set off the big drop he predicted for Government sales, as smokers, not relishing the newly-imported Monopoly stuff, began to exercise their preference for other and undoubtedly much cheaper kinds.

HE SAYS IT IS FALSE ECONOMY.

My friend made it clear that he had all the respect in the world for the long experience to which our present Superintendent of Imports and Exports could lay claim to, but it seemed to him that the Government had been ill-advised on a measure which he was sure would turn out to be one of false economy. He pointed to an intensive raiding being undertaken of dives as a necessary impelled by the new change, and to the discovery of contraband opium in almost every instance as vindication of his views. "You may find Red Lion opium," he remarked, somewhat pompously,

The Very Idea!

REACHING OUR GAOL

By Eddie Kelly, Sing-Slager.

WE see that over two hundred prisoners have been released from Hongkong's prisons in the past three weeks, because there is no accommodation for them.

It seems that the gaols are so overcrowded that whenever anyone takes a deep breath, all the rest have to breathe out.

Despite protests by correspondents in the newspapers the prison authorities remain adamant.

In these days of financial stringency, prisoners cannot expect to enjoy the hospitality of the Hongkong government any longer.

Too many shroffs are on the bread line—taipans can hardly make ends meet, and the Treasury officials are also going about with patches on their pants.

These people must receive first consideration, so it has been decided that in future prisoners must fend for themselves.

It seems, nevertheless, a cruel hoax to play on our convicts, whose only crime, after all, is the fact that they are criminals.

Many of them entered Laichikok on the distinct understanding that they would be allowed to remain there for at least twelve months.

What do we find? A heartless government repudiates its promises, and these poor, poor men are suddenly thrown out on the cruel, cold world. Bereft of home and sustenance, they wander the streets of the city, not knowing what to do.

Of what use is it to commit crime when this is all the thanks they get? The downward path opens before them. Discouraged, they enter business.

Some of them will reach the lowest depths of depravity by becoming taipans. Others, less fortunate, may sink so far that they ultimately become shroffs.

And have you ever seen anything as woe-begone as an ex-prisoner who has become a taipan or a shroff?

It is easier for a rich man to wriggle through the eye of a needle than for a cooie to enter Franks's Hotel.

A LITTLE PROBLEM

A cooie snatches a roll of cloth, feeling tired of working for his living, and forthwith is told he must spend three months as the guest of the Government.

After six weeks, he is told his cell is required for his pal Hoo Flung Wat, and with many mutterings and hard words, he is banished for ten years.

In four days, he is back and arrested.

Arraigned on this terrible charge, he is sentenced to twelve months.

Who wins?

THOSE SOLICITORS.

We have been thinking, a habit we have when we have nothing better to do, and we have been thinking about the little list of costs attached to the last writ we managed to keep out of court.

We are only waiting now for the time when a solicitor wants a note taken of an important case he is interested in. Something like this:

To taking note	$50
To time spent taking note	$43.50
To professional services ..	$95
To use of typewriter	$10
To research work, visiting witnesses and verifying accuracy of note	$20
To travelling expenses, no same matter	$10
To services of typist	$3
Total	$231.50

Say, $250 to cover all.

Wait! We have forgotten one item. We have forgotten to charge for the interview arranging to take the note.

"In the lot they have seized. Maybe Red Lion is not so good, but is certainly cheaper and can rank with this Singapore opium in refinement. Retainment of an inferior substitute at the same high price without the former excellence to commend it means simply the holding out of a big inducement to smuggling, and you may be sure that traffickers will be taking the fullest advantage of the position."

GLOUCESTER BUILDING BAND SLANDER ACTION

MANAGER SUED
BY LEADERALLEGED CRITICISM OF TRUMPET-PLAYING

PASSAGE OF LETTERS

A slander action for $1,000 and costs which has created much interest in musical circles opened at the Supreme Court this morning before the Puisne Judge, Mr. R. E. Lindell, the parties being Frank Lewiston Adamson, better known as Dick Adamson, leader of the Gloucester Building dance orchestra, and Percy Ingham Newman, manager.

Mr. M. A. da Silva, of Messrs. D'Almeida, Remedios, and Silva, appeared for plaintiff, and the defendant was represented by Mr. W. A. Mackinlay, of Messrs. Deacons.

The statement of claim sets out that plaintiff is a musical director and a player of the saxophone, clarinet and trumpet, carrying on business in Hongkong; and that defendant is the manager of the Gloucester Building (Residential). On the 31st January, 1933, defendant falsely and maliciously wrote to the plaintiff and published to a Mrs. M. M. Drake of the plaintiff and of him in the way of his business the following words:

"NUMEROUS COMPLAINTS."

With reference to your orchestra, you surely must have realised that their performance has been anything but satisfactory to date either to the management or to the guests. Numerous complaints have been received from time to time both from European and Chinese patrons to the effect that they find it impossible to dance to the time and tunes being rendered at present. In many instances these complaints have been mentioned to you but to all appearances no effort has been made on your part to rectify these very obvious faults and it is impossible to continue along these lines. Instead of the orchestra being an added attraction to the Gloucester it is driving customers away, at the same time being a very heavy expense. Had you held daily practices and had an up-to-date repertoire some degree of efficiency might have been attained but the same old tunes being played repeatedly simply drive all music lovers away. We exceedingly regret having to take this step which we feel might easily have been avoided had we had your entire co-operation with a view to making the venture a complete success."

"BAND NO GOOD."

On February 23, defendant falsely and maliciously, the statement alleges, spoke and published of the plaintiff the following words:

"The band is no good and I am fed up to the teeth with them and am getting rid of them. There is Adamson—you know him—that trumpet he is playing is the cause of the whole thing. It kills the band and the orchestra is driving my crowd away in lieu of attracting them. I have received more complaints about that trumpet than anything in the whole building."

$1,000 CLAIMED.

The statement also alleges that the words were published in the Gloucester Building and spoken in the hearing of a person named William Lawson Butts, and that defendant meant by the above words that plaintiff was an incompetent musician and not fit to be employed as a musical director or as a trumpet player and that by reason of such incompetence the Gloucester Building was losing custom. In consequence of the alleged words plaintiff had been greatly injured in his credit and reputation and in his business, and claimed $1,000 damages and costs.

WITHDRAWAL SOUGHT.

Mr. Silva, opening the case, said that reputation of the plaintiff in his chosen profession of music was no less precious to him than his limbs, health, and liberty, for the reason that he started his musical studies at the age of six. From an early age he established a reputation as a musician from San Francisco to Sacramento and across the Pacific from Shanghai to Singapore. When that reputation was defamed he sought reparation in the pecuniary sense but a complete withdrawal of the allegations.

LETTER SENT.

His client instructed his solicitors, continued Mr. da Silva, and the following letter was sent to defendant: "I have been consulted by Mr. Dick Adamson with reference to your letter of January 31st, and to a conversation which you had with Mr. Butts. Your said letter contains certain allegations derogatory to my client and to his orchestra, which allegations, my client informs me, are totally false. Further, in spite of such allegations, you have since re-engaged my client's orchestra, and have not included my client in such re-engagement. A verbal allegation in the same strain as contained in your said letter, was made by Mr. Butts on Thursday last, 23rd instant. Under the circumstances I am instructed to apply to you for a full and unconditional written withdrawal of the said allegations, and an apology thereto, and to inform you that unless such withdrawal and apology is given to my client by noon on Wednesday next, my client will take such steps in the matter as he may be advised without further notice."

REQUEST REFUSED.

No reply was obtained to this letter by March 3 and another letter was sent asking for an apology and withdrawal. The following day, a letter refusing the request was received from defendant's solicitors.

However, plaintiff was still seeking reparation in the sense of a complete withdrawal of the statements, apart from pecuniary reparation, said Mr. da Silva, and he had been instructed by his client to make an offer in open court to the defendant that, in the event of his making a full and unqualified apology for, and withdrawal of, the alleged statements, and publishing such withdrawal and apology in two English newspapers circulating in the Colony, the plaintiff would agree to judgment being given for a nominal sum and costs.

GENUINE OFFER.

After quoting cases which established the practice of making such an offer, Mr. da Silva said his client's was a genuine offer made with a desire to settle the case amicably, and in the expectation that it would be accepted.

Mr. Mackinlay: This offer is refused, but one point I must make secure is, that I am not taking one of the many defences open to me, that of justification.

His Honour: I noticed that. Mr. Mackinlay: I am taking my stand very largely on the question of privilege and in refusing the offer, my submission will be, should the case get so far, that that is not evidence of malice because we are not putting up a plea of justification. As far as we are concerned, the action must proceed.

ONUS OF PROOF.

Continuing, Mr. da Silva said it was his contention that the onus of proof rested with the defendant in this case.

Mr. Mackinlay replied that the onus of proof of the publication was upon his friend, and when he had proved that, he would have to say that there was malice. If he could say that, he might succeed but he must remember that this was an action in which there was qualified privilege.

What actually happened, said Mr. Mackinlay, was that the defendant instructed Mrs. Drake to write to Mr. Adamson and indicated roughly to her, what she should say. Mrs. Drake then typed out a draft of the letter which was approved and fair-copied and sent to the plaintiff. His submission was that the only publication on the part of his client was an indication to Mrs. Drake what she should say, and the approval of the draft.

There were two causes of action. First there was the publication of the libel to Mrs. Drake—there was no point in whether or not it was published to anyone else in the world—and the second point was the publication of slander alleged to have been used in the words spoken to Mr. Butts by defendant.

LIBEL QUESTION.

His Lordship agreed that he was unable to see that defendant's statement admitted any publication of libel.

Mr. Silva: When that publication was made to Mrs. Drake I submit, it could be inferred that these defamatory statements were in writing. Mrs. Drake was instructed by defendant to write the letter. She wrote it out later and brought it in a written form to defendant and the cases on this point are abundant that whenever there is any libel written by someone else's authority or request either person is responsible. If there is further making known of given knowledge by writing the statement then becomes a libel. In the event of Mrs. Drake, after having handed over the letter to defendant, getting the letter back into her possession from defendant and reading that letter does your Lordship say there is still no publication of libel to Mrs. Drake?

His Lordship: That seems to be the inference from other decisions. Mr. Silva: I contend that there was fresh publication from the written document.

JUDGE'S RULING.

His Lordship: I hold definitely that no publication of libel is disclosed in respect of the letter of January 31st.

Mr. Silva: Will your Lordship make a further note to clarify the position that even though from the circumstances it might be inferred that the person who wrote the letter had obtained further knowledge from writing that letter after it was in existence in writing. His Lordship agreed.

Mr. Silva enquired whether his Lordship would hold a similar view if the typist read the letter after signature.

His Lordship asked Mr. Mackinlay what he thought of the point raised and the latter said that if the typist had once read the letter he could see no reason why, if that was not a publication of libel, it should become so after the signature was affixed.

FINAL FORM.

His Lordship: There is this possibility that when the letter was brought to the principal for signature he might have toned it down or on the other hand altered some of the expressions contained in it before signing. Once he has put his signature to it and handed it back that is the final form in which the written word is transmitted.

Mr. Mackinlay: I agree there is that point, but if the actual defamatory statements were published in defendant's own hand-writing after the letter had been kept then that would be publication of a libel. But if a libel is in the letter itself and there is no addition in defendant's own hand-writing I cannot see any consequence in signing the letter.

His Lordship: Leaving the letter out of consideration for a moment it would perhaps be more satisfactory if we proceed with the actual claim in respect of the alleged slander on the 23rd February.

Mr. Silva: Then if your Lordship will make a ruling that it is not a libel in my writ to say "defendant falsely and maliciously wrote to the plaintiff and published to one Mrs. Drake a libel in the following words."

Mr. Mackinlay: I asked for particulars and they were refused.

TWO SLANDERS AND ONE LIBEL.

Mr. Silva: I did not know at the time that the writ included the words "publication to Mrs. Drake," but without any material alteration I think I can proceed on that letter for slander. The onus would then be still on the defendant.

Mr. Mackinlay: My defence was drawn up under the impression that slander was alleged on the 23rd, and libel on the 31st. I shall have to consider my position again.

His Lordship adjourned the case until this afternoon.

FAMOUS SOCIAL
WORKERPREBENDARY RUDOLPH'S
DEATH.

(Our Own Correspondent).

(By Telegraph. Copyright. Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1921. Received May 31, 1.58 p.m.) London May 30.

The death is reported at the age of 81 of the Rev. Edward Rudolf, Prebendary of St. Paul's Cathedral and founder of the Church of England Waifs and Strays Society.

The son of Major William Edward Rudolf, who fought at the Battle of Waterloo, Prebendary Rudolf was born in 1852. He was attached to H.M. Office of Works from 1871 to 1890 and was official private Secretary to the late Lord Eversley and to the Earl of Rosebery.

He founded the Church of England Waifs and Strays Society in 1881 and acted as its secretary from that date until 1919. He was a co-founder with the late Rev. Benjamin Waugh of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

He was ordained in 1898 and was Prebendary of St. Paul's Cathedral from 1911 until his death.

He was keenly devoted to social work and spent much time studying social problems and questions affecting emigration.

RAILWAY FINANCIER
PASSES AWAY

MR. NATHANIEL SPENS

(Our Own Correspondent).

(By Telegraph. Copyright. Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1921. Received May 31, 1.58 p.m.) London, May 30.

The death is recorded of Mr. Nathaniel Spens, Trustee of the London, Midland and Scottish Stock Conversion Trust, at the age of 83.

He was, in early life, a noted character as a courtier, being a partner in the Glasgow firm of Graham, Crum and Spens from 1881 to 1890, when the partnership was dissolved.

Mr. Spens then became Chairman and managing director of the Stock Conversion Trust Limited which he held until 1928. He always took an active interest in the management and finance of railway companies.

He contested the Govan Division of Lanarkshire unsuccessfully in 1892 as a Conservative.

Mr. Mackinlay: I take it there is libel alleged on the 31st and slander as well on the same day, and further slander is alleged on the 23rd. The position then is that there are two slanders and one libel instead of one slander and one libel.

His Lordship agreed.

RESUMPTION STATEMENT.

On resumption this afternoon, Mr. Mackinlay said he was prepared to accept the fresh cause upon the one condition that it is an entirely separate issue and to be treated as such. "My defence pleadings are not to be taken as relating to it at all. My defences only relate to the libel and slander in the remarks alleged to have been made to Mr. Butts."

"What I do object to in this fresh cause brought, is for plaintiff to say that it is admitted in my pleadings. I do feel that my friend will have to prove his own case."

After further argument, Mr. Justice Lindell informed Mr. Silva that he held, on the pleadings, that a prima facie case of privilege had been established and that the onus was on the plaintiff to prove malice.

The case is proceeding.

DOUBLE CENTURY FOR HAMMOND

CRICKET AT ITS BEST

NOTTS STAGE GREAT RECOVERY

London, May 30.
Cricket in its happiest mood was seen on county grounds during the last three days, fighting finishes and wonderful individual performances featuring the programme.

John Berry Hobbs, now in his 51st year, played one of the finest innings of his long career when he scored 221 against the West Indies. The Surrey and former Test idol was masterful and played an almost chanceless innings.

Walter Hammond quickly followed up his 178 against Middlesex by flogging the Leicester attack to score 206, whilst Roach of the West Indies and B. H. Lyon the dashing Gloucester captain, contributed magnificent performances with the bat.

The most entertaining cricket came from the meeting of Gloucester and Leicester in which Gloucester won by nine wickets.

Leicester, after having 518 registered against their first innings total of 234, faced the task of scoring 280 to avoid an innings defeat.

They accomplished this and managed to top the 370 mark, but could not stop Gloucester from annexing the fifteen points.

this year helped themselves to a further fifteen points when they defeated Glamorgan.

This match was made unusual by the fact that the teams tied on first innings, each aggregating 174. Essex, however, obtained a winning grip when they scored 351 in the return visit.

Notts obtained a remarkable victory over Middlesex, staging a recovery which took the Lord's team by surprise.

When Middlesex declared their first innings at 319 for 9, and dismissed Notts for 192, it looked odds on the Londoners winning, but Sam Staples came along to wile out Middlesex in their second knock for 183, and Notts, seizing their opportunity, hit out vigorously to obtain the required 247 for the loss of five wickets.

GREAT BATTING SIDE.

That the West Indies are gradually settling down into a formidable batting side is indicated, not only by their last few matches, but in the manner in which they played the Surrey attack to score 400 in their first innings and 160 for five in the second. Roach batted in great style to record 180.

Sussex received another slight setback when they had to rust content with first innings spoils against Warwick. The match was greatly restricted through rain, there being sufficient time only for Sussex to pass the Warwick score with three wickets in hand.

PERRY & HUGHES WIN

AUSPICIOUS DAY FOR ENGLISH TENNIS

WINNING FRENCH CHAMPIONSHIPS

Paris, May 30.

English tennis stock rose two or three points to-day, when successes were enjoyed in the French championships.

Fred Perry and G. P. Hughes, the English Davis Cup pair, annexed the Men's Doubles title by easily beating Vivian McGrath and Adrian Quist, the Australians in four sets.

Perry and Hughes took the first two sets without much difficulty, eased up for a breather in the third, and went out to win the fourth at the twelfth game.

PERRY'S SECOND WIN.

Perry followed this up by reaching the final of the Mixed Doubles in company with Betty Nuthall.

They enjoyed the distinction of beating N. V. Farquharson, the South African, and Miss Ryan of America in the semi-final. The English couple, after conceding the first set, swept all before them, and ran away with the third set to love.

Jack Crawford, Australia's leading player and Miss Scriven were winners in the other semi-final, beating H. G. N. Lee and Miss James, another English pair, in straight sets.

RESULTS.

The detailed scores were:

Men's Doubles Final.

F. Perry and G. P. Hughes (British) beat V. McGrath and A. Quist (Australia) 6-2, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

Mixed Doubles Semi-Finals

F. Perry and Miss Nuthall (Britain) beat N. V. Farquharson and Miss Ryan 4-6, 6-4, 6-0.
J. Crawford and Miss Scriven beat H. G. N. Lee and Miss James 6-4, 6-2.

"BABE" RUTH LIKES BEER

HIS FIRST TOT OF THE 3.2

New York.
George Herman Ruth, the Baseball fellow, wandered out of the Yankee exhibition game with the Dodgers in Brooklyn in the fifth inning recently and straight into the first bottle of 3.2 beer he encountered since the brew became legal.

The babe, a connoisseur of beer in the old days, appraised with a careful eye the bottle offered him by the locker room attendant.

"Hmmm," he said, "it looks like beer."
The attendant removed the cap and the Babe tilted back his head. Finally he set the bottle down and nodded wisely.

"All right," he said, "for quenching your thirst. A couple of those won't go bad after a tough game in July." —Reuter.

FILIPINOS STILL ON THE WAY

NEWS AWAITED TENNIS PLAYERS

The two Filipino tennis players, Leonard Gavia and Polintan, who were to have arrived in Hongkong this week on the first part of an official tennis tour, again disappointed this morning, when it was found they were not aboard the Empress of Russia.

Mr. L. R. Hildebrand has called Manila for news of the young players and the time of their arrival in Hongkong and he is expecting a reply some time to-day. Until then no definite arrangements can be made for their appearance on local courts.

R. F. LUZ MAKES PROGRESS

R. F. Luz and J. J. Basto entered the second round of the lawn bowls singles championship yesterday, when they respectively beat L. Luck and F. Jones.

Luz produced some of his best bowls for the occasion and was far too clever for Luck, who lost by 21 to 7, but Basto was given a closer run by Jones, the Recreation player eventually winning by 22 to 18.

E. Kern was unable to play his game with J. Purvis, and has given his opponent a walk-over.

One of to-day's matches has been postponed, R. Hall being unable to meet J. S. Houghton.

The rest of the programme is according to schedule, and the following games will be played:

F. Normington v J. C. Brown.
J. Chadwick v W. S. Drake.
(At the Club de Recreation).

E. M. Remedios v H. Overy.
F. X. M. da Silva v L. de Rome.
(At Civil Service).

THE DERBY.

Regarded As A Very Open Affair. MANTOBA FANCIED.

London, May 30.
Although as the result of the scratching of Bodosto the prices of the favourite show a slight contraction, the Derby still remains the most open problem for years.

The going is expected to be hard which will favour Manitoba.

Consequent on the scratching of Lochiel, Steve Donoghue has been engaged for Thrapston.

At the annual Press Club Derby lunch, Lord Derby stated: "My horse Hyperion is in his very best form and I cannot help feeling sanguine, at least of place money, on Wednesday."

Lord Londedale stated: "I hope Lord Woolavington's Manitoba wins. I feel convinced he is in his best fettle." —Reuter's Morning Post Special.

LEAGUE TENNIS STARTS

K.C.C. SHOW UP IMPRESSIVELY

U.S.R.C. SWAMP UNIVERSITY

NARROW SHAVE FOR I.R.C.

(By "Veritas")

Heavy courts hampered contestants in the first series of matches of the lawn tennis league yesterday, but four of the five "B" Division games were settled, with results more or less as anticipated.

The Chinese Recreation Club courts were left sodden by Monday's rain and it was quite impossible for the C.R.C. and the Recreation to play off. This was distinctly disappointing as the encounter was of no little importance.

Apart from the Hongkong Cricket Club's achievement in holding the I.R.C. to 5½ sets, the best performance of the day came the Kowloon Cricket Club, whose totally new second string visited the Civil Service and won handsomely by seven sets to two.

The K.C.C. demonstrated that here they have a very useful team. G. C. Burnett, with last summer's "A" Division experience to assist him, and Stapleton, a sound tactician, were in fine form, winning two sets to love and conceding only two games in the third.

Another useful pair is J. J. Ferguson and L. Jack. Ferguson, former Y.M.C.A. leaguer and Jack, who has played regularly for the K.C.C., carried off three sets and should settle down into a good pair.

Incidentally Ferguson was opposed to his old Y.M.C.A. partner, J. Wilson, but the latter, in company with Todd, had no success, losing all three sets.

RESULTS.

The results in brief were:

"B" Division

BRITON GUILTY OF CHARGE

SHANGHAI JURY'S FINDING

Shanghai, May 30.
Leonard Wedderburn, a British subject, charged with breaking and entering, was found guilty by a jury of five and sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The jury, in its verdict, added: "But in our opinion, in the absence of any real motive, we think the prisoner was momentarily unbalanced."

At the expiration of Wedderburn's prison sentence, he will enter recognizance of $200 to keep the peace and be of good behaviour for the period of a year.

Wedderburn, wearing bandages and a scarf to hide the self-inflicted wound in his throat, sat pale and distraught throughout the hearing. He gashed himself while awaiting trial.

Strange Story.

The prisoner was charged with entering the home of Mr. W. R. Davis at about 5.30 a.m. on Saturday, April 22. It was alleged that he knocked at the door of the house and when it was opened by a cooie he attacked the man, striking him on the head.

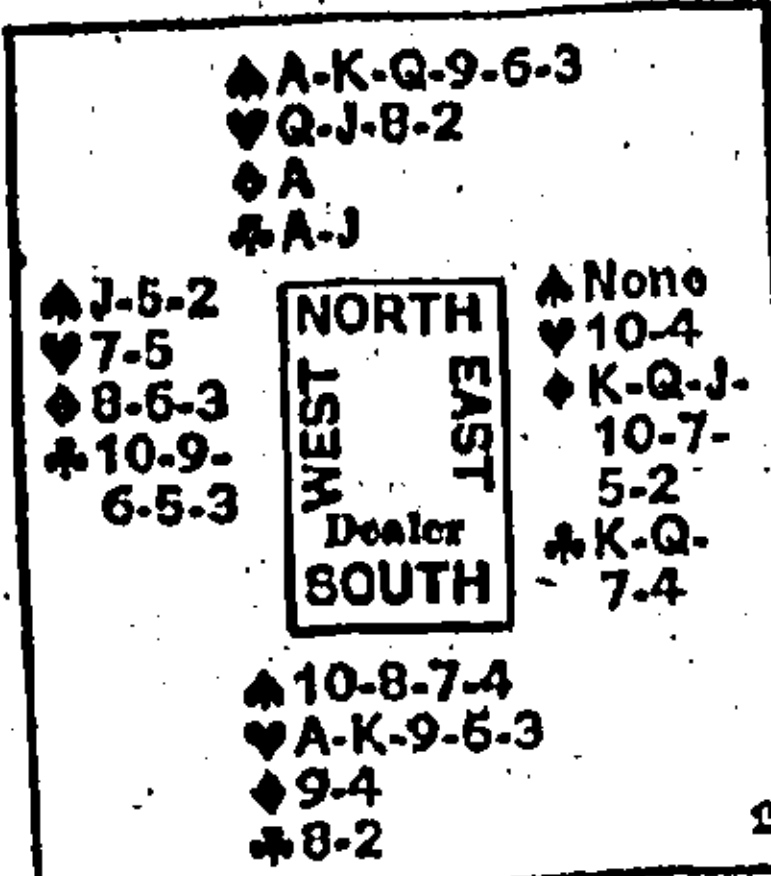

Accused is said to have gone to Mr. Davis' bedroom, pointed a loaded revolver at him and demanded that he sign a certain paper. He threatened to shoot everyone in the house unless his demand was complied with. Later, Mr. Davis succeeded in getting the revolver away from him, and summoned the police after his departure.—Reuter.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

While it is true that it is permissible to make weak opening third-hand bids in the constructive one over one system, it does not mean that you are not allowed to hold cards simply because you have a third-hand bid.

If you make a weak third-hand opening bid, remember that you must never rebid the hand under any circumstances. If you enter the bidding again you are telling your partner that you have a real hand. Take for example the following hand:

The Bidding

South, the dealer, passed. West passed, and North bid one spade. East overcalled with two diamonds and South bid two hearts. North took the bidding to six

Have You a Baby?

Then it is your duty to keep Baby's Own Tablets always available. And once you have tried them you will know the reason and you will heartily agree. Countless parents in all parts of the world gratefully admit that this splendid juvenile health-safeguard has brought them untold happiness and relief from anxiety. Children everywhere have been brought safely through the difficult early years by the aid of Baby's Own Tablets.

This splendid corrective offers both protection and relief. The formula is that of a medical practitioner of specially wide experience in children's ailments. It is a safe and effective remedy for constipation, infantile indigestion, stomach and bowel troubles generally.

During the teething period Baby's Own Tablets are a boon, easing the pains rapidly and thus enabling baby to sleep. Guaranteed to be free from narcotic, opiate or other harmful drugs, Baby's Own Tablets are safe for the youngest or most delicate infant, and an invaluable health-safeguard for children up to the age of seven or eight.

All reputable chemists supply them.

South is definitely marked with the ace of hearts due to the fact that when West overcalled with two diamonds any bid he could have passed. Therefore his overcall was a constructive bid and could not have been made, considering all the tickets North held, unless South had the ace of hearts.

Seven hearts cannot be made because West would open a spade which East would ruff.

EVEREST ASSAULT
THREATENED

BREAKING OF THE MONSOON

London, May 30.

The prospects of the Rutledge
Everest Expedition, now established on the approaches to the summit, may experience a real setback.

According to reports from Darjeeling, the monsoon is breaking.
The monsoon has already reached Calcutta and is expected in the Everest district this week.

It is believed, therefore, that the climbers, who have already made several fruitless attempts to gain the summit, will do their utmost to carry out a further assault before the end of the week.

If this proves impossible, the Rutledge Party will probably be compelled to postpone the attempt until October, after the monsoon season is over.—Reuter.
